Vote "Yes" On Proposition 4

KEEP THE COST OF COUNTY GOVERNMENT DOWN
 Hugh D. Chamberlain, supervisor from the Town of Canastota and the chairman of a committee named by the supervisors to explain the basis of the proposition to the voters, just his finger on the major argument for approving the issue when he recently explained that "under the present system of per diem payment for supervisors it is difficult to track the county business, whether in regular board meetings or on special committee work."
 To some of the larger counties in the State, supervisors are paid a flat salary, but a majority of the Allegany County board members feel that in a county with so small a population as Allegany and with the comparative small valuations of the county, that the affairs of the county can be administered more efficiently and cheaper by the present per diem method of compensation.

Following is the cost of Allegany County Supervisor's per diem for the past five years:

Year	Supervisors	Total Cost for all	Average Cost for each Supervisor
1946	4	$2362.00	$590.50
1945	4	1924.00	481.00
1944	4	4668.00	1167.00
1943	4	5138.00	1284.50
1942	4	6006.00	1501.50

The estimated cost of Supervisor's Salaries if Proposition Four is defeated, making it mandatory (revised County Law, Laws of 1946, State Legislature) for supervisors to be placed on salary basis:

At $250.00 a year	$10,150.00
At $300.00 a year	$12,000.00
At $350.00 a year	$14,000.00

The Conductivity of Christian Doctrine Classes for both the Sacred Heart high school and its branches in Buffalo, have again been recognized for the year. The classes of Father of Sacred Heart, Angelica, and St. Mary's, Buffalo, are under the supervision of the district of the Diocese of Buffalo, and will hold a Convent at Buffalo and send their teaching to the individual parishes of Allegany County. The necessary work of the sisters has been in progress six years, and the results have been manifold and successful in this all-important work of spiritual guidance of the children.

It is the custom each year to hold a Spiritual Retreat for the children, a time of spiritual meditation and contemplation, invoking God's blessing upon their work, that they may receive His help and assistance in their efforts. The retreat, 10th year, will be held in Sacred Heart Church, Angelica, with Holy Hour on Friday evening, October 30th, at eight o'clock.

Mrs. Leonard Palmer and Mrs. Wainwright are alternate members.

Heavy Registration Due To Soldier Bonus

A major factor in accounting for the heavy registration in this election is the heavy registration in Amendment 10 of the State Constitution. The bonus issue will be voted on November 3rd. The cost of the bonus will be $100 million and the benefits to the individual veterans will be graduated according to length of service and whether it was in the United States or overseas. They range from $40 to $200 for the men and women residents of the State—about 1,700,000 who were on active duty between December 7, 1941 and September 2, 1945.

Those who were in service for 90 days or less within the continental limits of the United States would receive 200 times with more than 90 days' service in the U. S. would receive $100, and all those who saw service outside the continental limits would receive $200, regardless as to the time of their absence. The next of kin of those who died in service would receive $250 while the next of kin of those who have died since discharge would get the amount the veteran would be eligible to receive if alive.

Dewey Casts Eye Toward Presidency

New York Governor Stands High in Public Estimation

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator.

WASHINGTON.—Last week we looked at some of the contenders for the Republican presidential nomination. This week it is the New York governor's turn.

More than one person who has tried to talk about or write about Thomas Edmund Dewey has complained of the difficulty of this task. There doesn't seem to be any one place to begin or end.

Several simple declarative sentences can be written about the ambitious governor of the State of New York.

For instance, he is ambitious.

Everybody admits that, his friends approvingly, making it a sort of copy-book virtue; and heart, has taken the copy-book to heart, not merely in regard to ambition, in general, but in attempting to justify a specific ambition, one we all heard some time or other in our youth: "every American boy has a chance to be president." Dewey has taken that seriously.

His enemies look upon Dewey's ambition as Brutus looked upon Caesar's.

York—seemed to indicate that there might be some concerted effort in the future on the part of the serious contenders. And, of course, there are always the favorite sons whose supporters always hope against hope to get together in a "stop Dewey" effort.

One thing about Dewey, however, is that he appears to be able to build as he goes. That is, up to the present, he has gained in velocity without having to reach too far back for his prestige.

Dewey's opponents point to what they call a "blank" record as governor. The Democrats say that about all he did was to cash in on a number of executive steps taken by his

Thomas Dewey is a small man—in stature. (The jokesters have done the best they can with that joke but it's worn by now.) Standing in a small group with Dewey you aren't particularly conscious of his height—or lack of it. When he looks at you he can look hard enough to make you feel that you are almost seeing eye to eye, literally, I mean — not necessarily figuratively.

Tom Dewey is a hard worker; he is 45 and, like Taft, was a good student. When it comes to generalities — Dewey is more difficult to describe.

There is one thing, however, that emerges clearly when one examines Dewey's career. It follows a very definite curve which he undoubtedly plotted a long time ago and which will take the boy from Owosso,

MEMOIRS: No Patience

James F. Byrnes, who, when he was secretary of state, was a veritable personification of "patience on a monument" in his dealings with Russia, stepped down from his post and announced that it was time to start stuggling.

In his published memoirs, "Speaking Frankly," Byrnes proposed that the U. S. reply to Russia's "obstructionism" on atomic energy and German peace treaty agreements with "better and more atomic bombs and a decision to drive the Red army out of Germany, by force if necessary."

"On this issue I don't think the federation has a head. I think its neck has just grown up and haired over."

Thus spake John L. Lewis, he of the king-sized eyebrows, at the American Federation of Labor convention in San Francisco. The issue to which he so justly referred was that of whether the AFL should vote to wipe out its 13 vice presidents, of which Lewis is one.

And despite Lewis' name-calling and hammy, mane-tossing histrionics, the AFL did vote to abolish its vice presidents in a move to make the entire federation eligible to use the national labor relations board under the Taft-Hartley law.

The action, which leaves only William and George Hodgson as secretary-treasurer, as top federation officers, was taken in order to permit the AFL officers to sign non-Communist affidavits for AFL federal unions which have no national officers of their own. No union may have access to

Thomas Dewey is a small man-in stature. (The jokesters have done the best they can with that joke but it's worn out.) Standing in a small group with Dewey you aren't particularly conscious of his height-or lack of it. Tom Dewey is a hard worker. He is 43 and, like Taft, was a good student. When it comes to generalities—Dewey is more difficult to describe.

There is one thing, however, that emerges clearly whenever someone says Dewey's career. It follows a very definite curve which he undoubtedly plotted a long time ago and which will take the boy from Owosso, Mich., all the way into the White House if he is permitted to follow it.

Frequently he has had to pause in his upward course but he always manages to start over again where he left off, and continue in the same direction. He lost his first bids for the gubernatorial and presidential nomination in 1938 and 1940, respectively, but he tried again for the governorship in 1942, and was carried into office on a landslide that ended 20 years of Democratic control. That carried him along to the next milestone and he became automatic contender for the presidency in 1944. The revolt against the New Deal which put the Republicans back into power in New York wasn't strong enough to overcome Dewey had to mark time until the next time—which is now.

However, there is no use leaping the nomination, which is the issue at the moment. There is the usual controversy over the results of Dewey's western trip, which ended in August, but his managers, with confident optimism, announced on his return that his first-battle strength at the convention would stand in the White House—he has at no stage been accused by his opponents of losing over backing up or saying anything that might prove an obstacle toward that goal.

This thought was put into concrete form in a recent resolution passed by the New York state Industrial Union council (the official CIO body which represents all the CIO unions of New York) at Saratoga Springs in September, which read: "We acquiesce in Dewey's permitting his personal ambition to take precedence over the best interests of the people of New York."

I don't mean to imply by this that Dewey counts too heavily on the CIO vote. Although he has created a considerable aura of respectability among some of the financially powerful individuals as a prosecutor. It must be remembered that more than once he has sacrificed a highly lucrative position for the pure joy of criminal prosecution. "speaking from on atomic energy and German peace treaty agreements with 'better and more atomic bombs and a decision to drive the Red army out of Germany, by force if necessary."

Exponents of the "get tough with Russia" policy now have a sturdy champion in the former secretary of state, who resigned that post only last January because of ill health.

BYRNES presented a 16-statement which must be the conclusion of a satisfactory German peace treaty. At the same time, he conceded that the plan of action conceivably could lead to World War III if Russia refused to co-operate.

First of all, said Byrnes, the U. S. should ask the Big Five to call a full-dress conference of all nations on Germany "early in 1945." If Russia refuses to participate or if she boycotts the conference, the other nations should proceed without her.

Then comes the stinger which Byrnes advocates. If Russia refuses to sign the treaty and likewise refuses to withdraw Red troops from western Germany, other nations should ask the U. N. security council to order her out. And if Russia vetoes the security council order, then the U. S. must drive her out of Germany by force.

However, Byrnes is firm in his belief that the U. S. probably will not have to resort to warfare. He thinks Russia will withdraw her troops from western Germany upon completion of a peace treaty.

No union may have access to the facilities of the national labor relations board under the Taft-Hartley law unless their officers sign the affidavits.

Lewis previously had adamantly refused to sign the non-Communist affidavit on the grounds that he would be making a concession to the Taft-Hartley law, much reviled by labor.

REPARATIONS:
Germany Pays

European aid took a different turn with an announced plan by British and American military governments to dismantle 682 German industrial and war plants in their two zones for reparations.

Purpose of the move, slated to be carried out as swiftly as possible, is to expedite European economic recovery. Most of the factories are metal, chemical and electrical engineering, shipbuilding and power plants.

The announcement points up the problem, still not fully solved, of whether completely to destroy Germany's war potential by cancelling out her industrial strength, or to rebuild the German industry for peaceful production.

Obviously realizing the possible adverse effects which the dismantling of the plants might have upon the German people, the U. S. and earned what people will think of us.

Boys and girls who guard their tongues will have friends. Boys and girls who speak words of envy, prejudice and falsehood will be shunned.

The Right Words

WHAT is in our hearts determines what we say and do. Therefore, if we are to speak the right words, our hearts must be right—right with God.

I have just come from a playground where a group of juvenile boys and girls were having a picnic. One of the boys, when a baseball game was in the decisive ninth inning. One of the junior boys was umpire. He called a pitched ball a strike, and the batter objected. Words followed—not altogether pleasing words. They saw me standing on the sidelines, and asked me to settle the matter. I had not seen the pitched ball closely enough to express an opinion.

The boy who had spoken most sharply went to the boy who was umpire, took his hand, and said, "It's okay with me. I am sorry I said what I did." That boy had the right attitude. He turned wrong words into right words, because his heart was right.

The Power of Words

"SPEAK not one against another," writes James, 4:11. Two teenage girls were walking home from school. One spoke bitterly to the other of a third girl. They parted at the corner, and the girl who had spoken the bitter words of her neighbor slipped and fell as she passed the home of the girl about whom she had been speaking. The neighbor girl rushed to her side, helped her into the house where her mother dressed the ankle. "Waiting for her father to come with the car, the girl who had spoken bitter words began to cry. Thinking that her neighbor was crying from the pain of the ankle, the girl who had been bitterly assailed spoke sympathetically to her neighbor.

"Will you forgive me?" cried out the distressed girl. "Forgive you?" "For the unkind words I spoke about you to Mary. O, I am sor-

...and presidential nomination in 1928 and 1932, respectively, but he tried again for the governorship in 1942, and was able that ended in years of Democratic control. That election and the next followed in 1944. The result against the New Deal which put the Republicans wasn't strong enough to even as Dewey had to mark time until the next time—which is now.

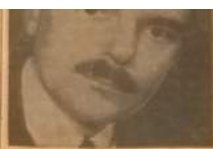

However, there is no one leap-frogging the nomination, which is the usual controversy over the re-elected in August, but his managers, with confident optimism, announced on his return that his first-ballot strength at the convention would register at least 400 out of the 847 votes needed to nominate him.

Taft Might Hinder Dewey's Possibilities

However, the results of the more recent Taft journey might mean a double setback for Dewey if what is claimed is correct; namely, that Taft not only strengthened himself but strengthened Republican prospects, generally.

The reason for this is that the men who pull the strings in the Republican party have no great affection for Dewey. If they thought they were due for an easy victory they would be likely to push him aside regardless of his vote-getting ability. In other words, while the insiders want a man who can get the popular vote, they would rather have somebody whom they are entirely sure is their man, even if he isn't as popular — so long as he has edge enough to pull through.

While no formidable "stop Dewey" movement is evident — the fact that Taft tossed Warren of California a whole bowl of roses, took occasion to at least mention Stassen — and found no occasion to notice the existence of the governor of New

VANISHING AMERICANISMS

Party Line Heading for Doom

That chatty, friendly institution, the rural party line, the force which has bound farm residents together into communities and spread more news than Walter Winchell, is getting ready to bid farewell to the American scene.

It's in the cards. The party line will be replaced, eventually, by the unassociated but efficient dial telephone exchange. That fact became apparent recently when a telephone and radio manufacturing firm announced development of a dial telephone exchange especially designed for the small community which has only 200 or 400 subscribers.

The new type of exchange, which will make dial phones economical for an operating company with as few as 40 lines, is termed romantically a "community rotary exchange." Cost of installation will average about $100 a line, but the average to an individual subscriber will be much lower than that because rural exchanges usually have from 4 to 10 parties on a line.

The unit will provide fully automatic service for individuals, private branch exchanges, 2, 5 and 10-party lines, as well as pay station service.

The Power of Words

"SPEAK not now against another," writes James 4:11. Two teenage girls were walking home from school. One spoke bitterly to the other of a third girl. They parted at the corner, and the girl who had spoken the bitter words of her neighbor stopped and left as she passed the home of the girl about whom she had been speaking. The neighbor girl rushed to her side, helped her into the house where her mother dressed the ankle. Waiting for her father to come with the car, the girl who had spoken bitter words began to cry. Thinking that her neighbor was crying from the pain of the ankle, the girl who had been bitterly assailed spoke sympathetically to her neighbor.

"Was you luvvies me?" cried out the distressed girl.

"Forgive you?"

"For the unkind words I spoke about you to Mary. O, I am sorry, sorry."

Forgiveness, they became trusted friends.

Words Reflect Character

"THIS lesson should summon every heart to utter the prayer of the Psalmist:

"Let the words of my mouth and the meditation of my heart be acceptable to thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my Redeemer."

Psalm 19:14.

Our words reflect our character. Christ's standard of conduct calls for words wisely chosen. Longfellow put it well when he wrote:

I shot an arrow into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where;
For, so swiftly it flew, the sight
Could not follow it in its flight.

I breathed a song into the air,
It fell to earth, I knew not where;
For who has sight so keen and strong,
That it can follow the flight of song?

Long, long afterward, in an oak,
I found the arrow still unbroke;
And the song from beginning to end,
I found again in the heart of a friend.

Rhubarb May Become Year-Around Food As Result of Discovery

Rhubarb may become a year-round food as result of the discovery that it protects teeth from the etching of acids, reports Dr. C. M. McCay of the School of Nutrition at Cornell University.

The discovery coincides with reports from dentists in recent months that some patients have part of their front teeth dissolved off from daily drinking of lemon juice in the treatment of constipation and arthritis, says the Cornell worker.

The work leading to the discovery started in 1943 when Dr. McCay was on duty with a unit of Seabees and a study was made of the foods the men bought outside of the messhall. These consisted mostly of candy and soft drinks.

Of these drinks, says Dr. McCay, the most popular were the cola beverages which are known to contain large amounts of phosphoric acid. The question arose whether this acid might erode teeth.

Next, with the help of a Navy dentist, a couple of human teeth were obtained and immersed in a cola beverage. They turned soft in two days. The experiment was continued by feeding the beverage to experimental animals, and in every case, in about two to eight weeks, the surface of the molar teeth was partly dissolved away by the

Crystals Grown for Use in Long Distance Lines

Growing crystals in a test tube to replace scarce but heretofore indispensable natural quartz for use in long distance telephone systems, is the latest accomplishment of Bell Telephone Laboratories.

Like a cluster of synthetic crystals these seeds are about to be harvested in a growing tank at the laboratories. In a few years such artificial crystals, grown from ordinary chemical salts, are expected to replace as much as 80 per cent of the natural quartz used in the long distance systems now already operating with the new synthetic, and additional are expected to go into use appreciably earlier than otherwise achievement.

Telephone engineers employ quartz of the scientific crystals—in sending many telephone conversations over the same wires at the same time but at different frequencies using crystal filters to guide each conversation into its proper channel.

Who Owns the A. T. & T.?

Who owns the American Telephone and Telegraph Company? In a recent article on the subject, Business Week, prominent news writer and analyst points out that this ownership is considerably more widespread than is indicated by the fact that the A. T. & T. had more than 700,000 stockholders, a new high, late in August.

While this alone is an impressive figure, he states that among the 4,000,000 stockholders who owned 100 or more shares in the company "a considerable number are savings banks and life insurance companies. Thus through interests in these banks and entities in life insurance policies, hundreds of thousands of other Americans indirectly own A. T. & T. stock."

"Further," he continued, "some 500 churches and religious organizations, 250 schools and colleges, 200 hospitals own A. T. & T. stock, thus giving a further spread to the ownership."

He points out that in no case does a single stockholder own as much as one-half of one per cent of the total stock.

Unexpected Action

When a Chinese laundryman in York, Pa., recently telephoned the police for help, after escaping the clutches of a drunken man who broke into his shop and assaulted him, he got into his car and drove off. In addition to the police radio car crew, five fire trucks and two fire chiefs' cars soon pulled up to his door. When he shouted "Big fight, big fight" over the telephone, the police said it sounded like "Big fire, big fire," so they summoned the firemen.

After other beverages had been tested such as synthetic lemonade and similar results were found, a search was started for some natural food that would protect teeth against this action of acids, says Dr. McCay. The nutritionists discovered that a small amount of oxalate in an acid beverage would completely protect the enamel of the teeth against these beverages.

Rhubarb and spinach are two of the richest foods in oxalate, the researchers knew, and now work is going on to determine just how much juice must be drunk or sauce eaten for the best protection. As rhubarb has long been known as a good laxative and a tasty food, it will not detract if mixed with lemon juice to prevent constipation, says Dr. McCay.

No one can yet anticipate how much these discoveries will expand the market for rhubarb, Dr. McCay comments. However, he thinks a new industry may arise—that of canning rhubarb sauce and bottling its juice.

THE FICTION CORNER
GOOD LOSER
By C. S. MONTEYNE

LUCY AMER could almost tell the children's uncertain welcome. They were crawling down to the kitchen, Paula and Roger, aged 12 and 10, after a minute, Billy leaped, laughing, she smiled a little and drew the curtain aside.

Why, she wondered, did children always adore their fathers? Perhaps it was because fathers were not busy all day, killing them to death, not to do that. Or because they were something of a novelty, who came home from work trim, with interesting gifts. Her smile faded as she let the curtain drop.

The father, Lucy reflected with a sick, was a strange mixture of bluff, good nature, generosity and aggression. Bill was a king in his own house—a fat, ruddish monarch whose reign had never been disputed. And there, Lucy decided, was the trouble.

The children humored him. They purposely indulged his desire to win at whatever games they played, because they seemed to instinctively know how much it meant to him. They felt his vanity look a delight in knowing his laughter, quick and ringing, his face shadowed. She wondered why such a trivial matter as Billy's winning children's games should annoy her. But it did—it had since the first day last September when she had seen Calvin liberally throw a handicap tennis match so his father could win.

"Dinner ready?"

They straggled in, Bill in the van, the children following. He caught Lucy by the elbow, and raised her for a kiss.

At the table there was a great clatter of crockery, voices. Bill talked about his trip, the children like-minded stanzas giving him leading questions. Bill Junior, looked down the table at his father.

to have him defeated? It was silly. And yet—

They assembled in the parlor the next night. Calvin made a bid for the chair, Paula and Roger, aged 12 and 10, after a minute, Billy leaped, laughing, she smiled a little and drew the curtain aside.

Lucy wondered why young Bill failed to press his advantage—and then glanced at her husband's grimly set face.

Bill Junior chuckled. "Got some news for you. It's a secret for the time being, but I'll let you in on it if you keep your mouth shut."

"I won't say a word," Calvin promised. "What is it?"

Lucy, her eyes were fixed on the billiard table. She had seen Calvin liberally throw a handicap tennis match so his father could win.

Lucy looked at her husband's grimace. And then, Lucy looked at the clock.

The children returned here. They were laughing and shouting. They were shouting because they thought they were going to win. They were shouting because they thought they were going to win. They were shouting because they thought they were going to win.

The children returned here. They were laughing and shouting. They were shouting because they thought they were going to win. They were shouting because they thought they were going to win. They were shouting because they thought they were going to win.

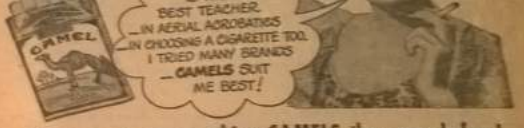

Lucy wondered why young Bill was always at her husband's elbow.

Bill, Lucy noticed that her husband's smile had faded—how grimacing there was. And then, at each and every move, he talked psychological comment. He talked about the game. Why, Lucy asked herself, did James's baby, pressing play against her? Why didn't he drive his advantage home when he had the game and set practically won?

THE heavy, significant silence broken only by the click of the beginning scattered ball and the galloping rattling of the pieces.

The children swarmed past—Lucy's stomach, anxious to reach her smile was small and cryptic when she began reading up her book hands with his silent one and switched the lights off.

"Guess the champ can't be beat," young Bill said huskily.

...her conversation with a small, harm-
...less woman, this desire to win on ...his Bill's part. Why should she want

...when she began rounding up
...brood, sending them off to bed. Bill
...looked back with his oldest son and ...switched the lights off.
..."Just the damn case," he began
...en," young Bill said huskily.

...Who he started in business for ...himself, in a field which was over-
...crowded and hard, a friend of who ...ran into high stone walls of discen-
...agement. Often he was ready to ...quit. Why keep on trying? he would ...ask himself. There didn't seem to ...be much ahead but failure.

"I would go home right now if
...I might perfectly willing to cut it
...quite with life," he told me. "Three ...times I wondered if it wouldn't be ...better to end it all."

"His wife advised him to see the
...family physician, and the physician
...recommended a psychiatrist. The ...examination lasted three days, but ...I can give you the gist of his report:
...I am signed for action. Just
...keep busy."

"The psychiatrist's explanation ran
...like this: 'The end of life is not ...thought. It is action. We are made
...for action. That we may move and ...not we have a marvelous system of ...muscles, nerves, senses, all de-
...signed for action, for doing some...thing.'

"The mind responds gloriously to
...the active life, and happiness con-
...sists, in the end, of action, action,
...action."

"Happiness depends upon what
...you do, not upon what you have, and
...upon what you think—but upon what
...you do."

"I have observed many times that
...the most interesting personalities
...are not those of the lounge lizard
...or the dabbler. They are the per...sonalities which have been stamped
...definitely in the forge of action."

"The minute this friend of mine be...gan taking the advice literally, he
...began developing a happy outlook
...on life, began making good in his ...business."

"I am glad to report that today he
...is in a thriving way, completely
...happy and well adjusted to his ...world. He has made good—because ...he kept busy."

"My friend added some facets to
...the jewel the psychiatrist gave him.
...He began letting part of his action
...take the form of service to others,
...which further added to his happi-
...ness."

"When black discouragement would
...come to him, he would think of ...something he could do for someone
...else."

"A cripple in the block didn't go
...out much. He'd take him for a ride.
...He'd make hits for the kids who ...lived near by. He'd go on errands
...for his wife. Anything of action and
...service—that was his belt."

"There emerged from his discipline
...something fine in the way of a hu-
...man personality and character, and ...I am not so sure but that this is one
...of the most vital personality issues,
...any one of us can possibly learn—
...'just keep busy.'"

ECONOMY-MINDED farmers like Champion Farmer H. L. McKinley find costs go down when they use Firestone Champion Ground Grips.

Tests show that Firestone Champion
Ground Grips clean up to 100% more, effectively, pull up to 62% more, last up to 91% longer, and roll smoother over highways.

The reasons are simple. The curved bars run deeply into the soil. Mud falls easily and cleanly from the tapered openings between the bars. Because the traction bars are connected, they're stronger, they have more tread rubber to push into the ground and pull. This extra tread rubber also lengthens tire life . . . makes tires roll smoother.

Although judged best by leading farmers everywhere, Firestone Champion Ground
Grips cost no more than ordinary tractor tires. Specify the "Champion" when you order your new tractor, or when you buy replacements for your tires. See your nearest Firestone Dealer or Store today.

Vets' Service News

Increased service rates at our college and university brought up a point that is being referred to these veterans attending school under the GI Bill of Rights. Under the GI Bill, a veteran is reimbursed for tuition and necessary expenses up to $500 a school year. If the total cost exceeds $500, the vet either pays it out of his own pocket or has enough additional money deducted from the national account that he can cover the additional cost. Usually, the vet signs a note signed by the national account and then is usually in a position to have the $500 cover all necessary expenses. If the debt have additional eligibility have deducted by only work for him, he has the full time remaining of that if he'll have enough eligibility to complete the course. How's the formula? For each additional $2.19 deducted over the $500, one day's eligibility is spent. Hence, if his year's bill was $500, he would have 100 days in his GI Bill deducted in addition to the time of the normal school year.

One more point is important to vets: The VA will not increase the subsistence allowance for a veteran who has acquired a dependency status until the time he actually notifies the VA. In other words, if a veteran—who has been receiving $63 a month subsistence as a single vet married and becomes eligible for the $90 married vet's subsistence, he won't receive the $90 until he notifies the VA, and it will be retroactive just to the date of notification, not to the date of marriage.

FRIENDSHIP MAN'S BODY RETURNED FOR U.S. BURIAL

Plans filed at half past 10 in French only, according to the French, when the French took a grey funeral case, about five feet square, from the French to the Pacific with the first batch of American who died overseas in World War II to be returned to the United States. Among the names listed by the body of the Frenchman, who had his body returned to the United States on November 1, 1943, in the 1st ship of the line of New Columbia. His body, which was returned to the United States, was buried in the Quartermaster Depot, at Philadelphia, Pa. From there it was to be removed to Elkins National Cemetery for interment with full military honors. He was the only body from Albany County in this first contingent of the dead.

He had attended Friendship Central School, leaving his studies to become an apprentice mechanic for Dick Smalley at the Smalley Motors. Mr. Smalley recalled this week that Glenn had become a fine mechanic in his seven years there and a period of employment interrupted and finally terminated by his entry into the Army.

Glenn was born here September 22, 1916. After the death of his parents, he lived with his great-uncle and great-aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thurber of Nile.

SUPREME COURT CANDIDATES

PHILIP HALPERN

GEORGE T. VANDERMEULEN

RAYMOND A. KNOWLES

The Republican Party has nominated three eminent and qualified men as candidates for the Supreme Court Bench in the Eighth Judicial District, which includes these counties: Allegany, Cattaraugus, Chautauque, Erie, Genesee, Niagara, Orleans and Wyoming. They are Philip Halpern, Dean of the University of Buffalo Law School, and Chief Counsel to the Public Service Commission; Supreme Court Justice George T. Vandermeulen, and Niagara County Judge Raymond A. Knowles.

Although only 44, Philip Halpern, Republican Candidate for Supreme Court Justice, has had a brilliant career in the law.

Born in Buffalo, he received his early education in the public schools and Hutcheson High School. At the age of 20, he was graduated with highest honors from the University of Buffalo. He served as Justice George T. Vandermeulen, 60, Republican Candidate for Supreme Court Justice, was named to the Supreme Court Bench by Gov. Dewey earlier this year to fill a vacancy. When appointed he was serving his eighth year as Erie County Surrogate, and previously he had been Clerk of the Court for sixteen years.

In Niagara County, where he has served on the bench for the last nine years, Judge Raymond A. Knowles' duties have included those of County Judge, Surrogate and Children's Court Judge. He was elected County Judge in 1938 and re-elected in 1944. This year he is a Republican Candidate for Supreme Court Justice.

stand as offered for present at the surrogate's Court some two weeks. The will left one-half of the $2,500 personal and $2,000 real property estate to Houghton College and divided the remainder among three nephews and one niece and the daughter, except that the daughter, the only child, was to receive only the income from her share, on her death to revert to niece and nephews or their heirs. A later codicil forgave Marley Neal, Rushford, a nephew, the $600 remaining of a $1,000 loan made in 1943 by Mrs. VanDusen. The other nephews are Archie Neal, Irvington, N. J., and Lawrence Neal, Bellefonte, Pa., and the niece is Doris N. Smith, Rushville.

Mrs. Dutton was represented by George R. Graves, Nunda, and those seeking probate by Leighton T. Wade, Glenn, trial lawyer, and David P. Richardson, Fillmore.

Loses to grape growers through the sudden early freeze, which caught the entire Finger Lakes region with the crop still on the vines, is expected to run well over six figures.

SCHOOL TAX NOTICE

are to be chosen, and a vote to pay for town supervisors will be voted on.

Any considerable change in the complexion of the Board of supervisors will not be made since present incumbents in 26 towns seek re-election. The three towns sure of a new representative are Centerville, Rushford and Wirt. In Rushford, Fred J. Miller, Rep., a former board member, is opposed by Charles D. Demmon, Dem. In eleven towns having county, no Democratic tickets have been placed in nomination: Alfred, Allen, Alma, Amity, Angier, Clarksville, Cuba, Genesee, Granville, New Hudson and Wirt. In four other towns, present incumbents are sure of re-election though endorsement by the opposing party to that of the member.

An important decision as to the compensation of board members, in accordance with recent state law, must be made by county voters, it is whether or not supervisors shall continue to be paid on a per diem (or daily) basis after January 1, 1948, or whether they shall be placed on an annual salary. Most board members have expressed themselves as believing it will cost less to continue per diem pay than to change to an annual salary plan. And the county would get a better quality of service, too.

Four important county offices are to be filled. Present incumbents, all Republicans, seek re-election. They are: Ward M. Hopkins, Cuba, county judge and surrogate; Frank L. Gere, Cuba, county treasurer; Allen Moses, Friendship, district attorney; and F. Vanina Jones, East Monticello, sheriff. Democratic opponents are: George W. Bliss, Bolivar, county judge and surrogate; Robert W. Fleischer, Wellsville, clerk of the

Although only 44, Philip Halpern, Republican Candidate for Supreme Court Justice, has had a brilliant career in the law.

Born in Buffalo, he received his early education in the public schools and Bushhousen High School. At the age of 20, he was graduated with highest honors from the University of Buffalo Law School in 1920.

Mr. Halpern became Professor of Law in the U. of B. Law School in 1925, and Dean of the Law School in 1943. In 1944, he was appointed Chief Counsel to the Public Service Commission by Gov. Dewey.

This appointment came after Mr. Halpern had established a broad reputation in the teaching and practice of law. Known as a "Lawyer's Lawyer", he has been Counsel in many cases involving the constitutionality of state statutes, city home-rule questions and public utility franchises.

During World War II Mr. Halpern was a member of the Enemy Alien Hearing Board. He is a member of the American Law Institute, American, New York and Erie County Bar Associations. He was Vice-President of the Western New York Bar Federation from 1941 to 1944. He served as Legal Advisor to the Judges and Police Executive's Conference of Erie County from the time of its establishment in 1924 to 1940. He resides with his wife and two sons in Buffalo.

Justice George T. Vandermeulen, 60, Republican Candidate for Supreme Court Justice, was named to the Supreme Court Bench by Gov. Dewey earlier this year to fill a vacancy. When appointed he was serving his eighth year as Erie County Surrogate, and previously he had been Clerk of the Court for sixteen years.

He was considered an outstanding Surrogate, ably administering the huge volume of business in the Erie county court.

The judge, a native Buffalonian, had just graduated from Old Central High School when his father died, and he went to work to assist his mother maintain the home. In those years he had a variety of jobs: laborer in the stockyards, blacksmith's helper, machine shop employee, store clerk and coal wagon driver.

Graduating from the University of Buffalo Law School, and admitted to the bar in 1912, Justice Vandermeulen practiced law thereafter except for a 27-month period when he served in the army during World War I.

He is a former President of the New York State Association of Surrogates, a former post commander in the American Legion, a member of the Erie County and New York State Bar Associations. Married and the father of four children, Justice Vandermeulen makes his home at 129 Coollidge Road, Buffalo.

In Niagara County, where he has served on the bench for the last nine years, Judge Raymond A. Knowles' duties have included those of County Judge, Surrogate and Children's Court Judge. He was elected County Judge in 1938 and re-elected in 1944. This year he is a Republican Candidate for Supreme Court Justice.

Born 61 years ago in Van Etten, Chemung County, he moved to Niagara Falls with his family as a boy, and has remained there since. He is a graduate of Niagara Falls High School, attended Cornell University and the University of Buffalo Law School. He was admitted to practice as an attorney in 1920. In 1922 he was appointed assistant district attorney of Niagara County. Five years later, he was elected District Attorney, a post he held for eleven years.

During World War I Judge Knowles served with the United States Marine Corps.

Active in civic affairs, he has been President of the Niagara Falls Council of Social Agencies, President of the Niagara County Pioneers Association, and directed Red Cross campaigns in Niagara Falls during the war years. He formerly was President of the Niagara Falls Lawyers Club.

Judge Knowles has been described by associates as a benevolent and understanding jurist. He resides with his wife and two sons in Niagara Falls.

County Infantile Chapter Meets

A group of 20 men and women interested in the County Infantile Chapter, aiding polo patients to recovery, and the raising of the 1948 financial support for the chapter's program, met Thursday evening at Bull's restaurant, Buffalo. Chairman Martin Pitt, Canandaigua, presided. He outlined the present situation, explained what aid can be given to families where infantile has struck, and urged a close-knit group for future work.

The county raised $12,500 last year to aid the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and to carry on its work at home. One-half of funds given in the county remain in it, and the national funds can be drawn on in extreme cases, as has already been done to the amount of $12,000. Our county case has cost $3,000 but the child is on the way to complete recovery.

Assemblyman Stanley Shaw, Ithaca, Western New York representative of the National Foundation, complimented this county highly on its fine standing of second place in New York State, top position taken

Birdsall Nonagenarian Celebrates Birthday

On Sunday, November 2nd, six continued by those members of the family who were able to be present, and receiving the great wishes of a legion of friends. Mr. Henry Birdsall, highly respected friend and neighbor, and a resident of the Town of Birdsall for upwards of three-quarters of a century, celebrated the ninety-fourth anniversary of his birth.

The day was unusual, not only because the venerable old gentleman has gone far beyond the allotted "three score and ten", but also because for Mr. McMahon, this date marked the passing of forty-seven years in the nineteenth century and the same number of years in our present twentieth century.

Mr. McMahon came into Allegany County as a young man, and at the time of his marriage settled on the farm where he still resides with his son and daughter, Mr. William McMahon and Miss Katherine McMahon. He enjoys good health, is a regular attendant at St. Mary's Church, where he has long been a trustee, and maintains a keen interest in national and local events.

Edwin P. Mills Dies in Buffalo

The sudden death of Edwin P. Mills, occurred at 3 o'clock, Friday, October 31, at the home of his wife, Robert E. Mills in Buffalo.

Mr. Mills was born in Canandaigua, Sept. 28, 1878, the son of Charles and Delilah Palmer Mills. He was married to Lora Douglas, whose death occurred in 1905. He is survived by his son, a grandchild, Carl J. Mills and several cousins.

He was for over thirty years associated with the local paper, beginning as a "rotter boy" on the "Short Week" in 1891, and working by way up until he became editor and owner in 1908. By this time the paper's name had been changed to the "Angelica Advocate". In 1921, he sold it to Mr. John Lauritzen and moved with his family to Buffalo, where he lived until his death.

Funeral services were held Sunday at Kensington Methodist Church, Buffalo, at 1:30 p. m. and at 4 p. m. in Angelica Methodist Church. Rev. Alfred Gross was the officiating clergyman in Buffalo and was assisted by Rev. Carlisle Smith at the service here. Burial was made in "Until the Day Dawn" cemetery with Melrose

Allegany County Still Republican

The local election was of more than usual interest for this year, probably because of the amendments and propositions presented to the voters. The results indicated more than enough to this part of the state. Amendment No. 1, which had to do with the payment of a veteran's bonus carried here by 139 votes, the amendments 2, 3, and 4 were supported by small majorities, 5 and 6 but by a small vote. The first three propositions also received a majority of "No's". Proposition 4, relevant to the compensation for emergency being paid on per diem basis, showed a majority of 292 votes. The judges of the supreme court Vandusenken, Knowles and Halpern had majorities of 223, 242 and 210 over their Democratic opponents. County Judge Ward Hopkins had a majority of 245 over George H. Allen. Maps for District Attorney also received a substantial majority over Robert Fleischer, county treasurer Frank Gore and Sheriff F. Vanama Jones were given majorities of 240 and 179 by Allegany voters.

Allegany Shrine Club Dinner Meeting

The Allegany County Shrine Club pre-annual dinner meeting was held at the Belmont Hotel on Wednesday evening, October 29, 1947. There were nobles from Deane of Seneca, Tompkins, together with the following officers: Honorable Potentate, Carl A. Heston; Grand Marshal, George W. Reunion; Grand Scribe, Edwin G. Zeigler; Treasurer, Charles T. Towner. Guests and Nobles from the surrounding counties were in attendance. There were approximately one hundred nobles present at this meeting. Mention was made of the marvelous work that is being done by the various Shrine Crippled Children's Hospitals regardless of race, creed or color.

The meeting was presided over by George A. McMahon president of the Allegany County Shrine Club. President McMahon urged all nobles to support the grand work of the State of New York in the rheumatic fever campaign which is under the direction of Most Worshipful Grand Master Gay H. Brown. Noble Ralph M. Tompkins, Right Worshipful Grand Scribe Bearer of the Grand Lodge of the State of New York gave a very interesting

Allegany Red Cross To Enlist Children

Officials of Central Allegany Chapter of the American Red Cross, headed by Miss Mary Higgins, Friends of the Red Cross, are making a special effort to enroll every school child in this chapter in every school district. The time is now for Red Cross work. The time is now for Red Cross work. The time is now for Red Cross work. The time is now for Red Cross work.

The annual fee for an entire grade is but 25 cents. Thus for a grade having 25 pupils, each child contributing to be enrolled would contribute but two cents. Children are urged to save their contribution and not ask parents to increase their allowance. Joining is purely voluntary. The object is to acquaint American youth with Red Cross activities and, in proportion to age and ability, to have a part in this the largest and greatest humanitarian organization in existence.

While under the supervision of schools, the work entails no added burden on teachers. The plan is simply to encourage students in manual training, sewing and art classes to make articles for the comfort or entertainment of our own disabled soldiers in Veterans' hospitals, such as covers for hot water bottles, bed son, William New York representative of the National Foundation, emphasized the newly high in its financial standing of several years in New York State, the position taken by Governor Dewey. We told of $25,000,000 raised in the nation in 1943, placing the Foundation's work on a par with the American Red Cross.

An official Board of Directors was chosen, made up of Mrs. George Lewis, Albert Lawrence E. Day, Charles Ross Wyatt, Richard J. Bussard and Lee V. Landon, all of Wallingford; Wilson M. Fisher, Princeton; Charles B. Oliver, Anglinville; and Mrs. Andrew Baynes, Pittsburg.

Present also for the meeting were William J. Holliman and William B. McElroy, Wallingford, co-chairmen for the first campaign; Louis Wyatt, Wallingford, treasurer; Miss Helen Landon, Wallingford, secretary. Representatives from these communities are: Pittsburg, George Ross; Anglinville, W. H. Franks; Friendship, Ohio, Charles and Elizabeth.

A list of representatives in 21 society communities is being prepared. These reports indicate cases and aid families to know the maximum possible. The annual kick-off dinner for the 1944 campaign will be held early in December when it is hoped to have patients helped to recovery in attendance.

Navy Offers Career
A college education leading to a degree and commission in the U. S. Navy and Marine Corps is being offered to high school seniors or graduates between the ages of 17 and 21 under the Navy College Training Program which pays for the necessary tuition, books and uniforms of the successful candidates as well as a living allowance of $500.00 a year. Applications must be received by November 15th.

Further information and application blanks may be obtained from high school principals, college deans or the Office and Naval Officer Procurement, 205 Old Post Office, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Legionaires Basketball
The Anglinville Legionaires open the basketball season tomorrow night when they meet the Chester Legion. Most teams, composed of high school and college graduates, will play on the Central School court.

The locals, started with stars of other years, such as Captain Skip Feldman, Eddie Robinson, Joe Harziman, Don Ross, Bruce Spangler, Albie Elmer, Mace Young, Harold Lincoln, Dutch Robinson, Bud Hoffman, Ken Scholla and Roland Galloway have had several practice sessions and should prove a formidable aggregation.

They have joined the G. I.-Alumni League composed of ten teams which for the first time, will operate as high school teams, with play-offs at the University of Rochester at the end of the season.

Manager Bud Lincoln and Coach Herb Jennings announced at press time that the locals play their first league game on the local court Friday of next week when they meet Whiteville, a team made up largely of the same fellows that beat out Anglinville Central School in the playoffs two years ago at Alfred.

It's back, it's back to be good, so let's turn out and help the Legion boys get started.

Official referees are assigned to handle these games, the same as in high school games.

Preliminary games will be arranged to insure the big games on Friday are sure to get a lot for their money.

Former Minnesota Governor Is Playing Lone Wolf Role

By BAUGHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator

(This is the third of a series on the men most talked about as candidates for the Republican Presidential nomination.)

WASHINGTON — When the bakery was down in Washington sweating out a grain conservation program for their industry, my friend from Minnesota, Harry W. Zimmerman, who is what the personal column calls a "frequent visitor" in the capital, gave a little luncheon for his colleagues and some press and radio men. We had finished eating and were gathered around to listen to the baker's troubles when suddenly the door opened and 230 pounds of blond, smiling, political potentiality burst upon us.

Our host shouted a happy "Hello, Harold!" then turned and announced: "Gentlemen, the next President of the United States."

I dazedly met Minnesota Republican I saw in the country, says he revealed with interest by the candidate.

I suppose I have had 50 people ask me about Harold Stassen. "Why hasn't Stassen a chance?" they query.

Most observers seem to agree that if he has a chance, it's a pretty slim one to date.

The reason is always the same: The professional politicians don't want him. Not because he's a political "unknown." He could hardly be called that. Sure he took the job of county chairman at the age of 21. He was elected governor of Minnesota three times, could have been senator from that state, had he wanted the job.

In his case, it's not so much that he's a newcomer as it is the way he came up. That way is characteristic

Erosion Prevented By Growing Crops Help In Saving The Soil

By W. J. DEYDEN

The late spring floods and heavy rains made many farmers realize that losses from water erosion can be serious. Michigan State soil

Soil specialists list four rules to reduce water erosion on farm land.

1. Never leave the ground bare longer than necessary. Vegetation is important over the winter.
2. As the slope of the land increases, use more crops of grass and small grains and fewer cultivated crops.
3. If medium sloping land is cultivated, practice strip cropping, cross slope seeding and tilling, and use sod waterways and terraces.
4. Keep the soil in as high a state of fertility as possible. Add lime where necessary, use commercial fertilizers and add manure through natural manures, green manures or crop residues.

Soil Building

The difference between soil building and soil mining is shown in the chart below. Soil building means increasing the soil's organic matter and plant food supply and maintaining high crop yields. It means feeding the soil and letting the soil feed the crops, rather than trying to feed each individual crop.

Congress Will Convene; No Russia; Chile, Brazil

TRUMAN CALLS
Congress to Meet

Congress, summoned by President Truman, will convene in special session at noon, November 17, to deal with:

1. "The alarming and dangerous" high prices of food and fuel. The program being prepared for emergency relief.

President Truman's announcement of congress a month ago and before it normally would convene convened marked a definite change in U. S. domestic events.

Although doubt existed as to long time as to whether a special session would be called, there have been two problems which have been screaming with urgency since war, it was the only really long step to take.

Mr. Truman took it deeply. He conferred with his cabinet and he conferred with key congressional leaders of both parties. They met and they advised on a special session, he informed them that he was calling one.

He said, "for the congress to take effective action designed to bring to the continued rise in prices and to meet the crisis in Western Europe."

He was elected governor of his state 11 years ago. In his case, it's not so much that he's successful as it is the way he does it. That way is characterized by the whole campaign, and two words describe it: "Lame duck."

The situation favored Blawie when he forced his way into the gubernatorial race in 1938. Blawie was a candidate and was there and the Farmer-Labor party, which had had a very high opinion of Blawie, was disappointed. Blawie was a candidate and was there and the Farmer-Labor party, which had had a very high opinion of Blawie, was disappointed.

HAROLD STANSEN
Does he have a chance?

It is not clear whether the political situation is such that any practical politician could expect to turn back the clock, especially in his highly unorthodox camp. Stansen has violated two rules.

One, by announcing himself early in the present campaign. Today he is the only official candidate for the presidential nomination.

Two, he has made and he is making sharp criticisms of the Republican program.

The House Democratic caucus in the past has been a very important factor in getting a new program. Certainly, Stansen has made the Republican program more democratic, more progressive, more dynamic. He does not consult with anybody else when he announces how to make it so. That's part of the issue.

He comes up from the soil with a dirt-farmer father. He worked his military record as deputy chief of staff to Admiral Halsey. He is younger than Dewey (Stansen is 37), and taller than Tall—a sandy-haired, slow-spoken and deliberate talker.

There is no doubt that Stansen's record is a very impressive one. He has a good story to tell. He is a good story to tell. He is a good story to tell.

When anyone operated on James S. Payne, there was a real case report, to remove a nail from his hand, they discovered that the man was virtually a paralytic. The doctors recovered from Payne's man-handled stomach. The result, serving an arm term, gave no reason for his mental diet.

Vandenberg Won't Fight

Early this year, according to credible authority, a secret poll was taken by Republican senators as to their informal, off-the-record preference for a presidential candidate. Sen. Arthur Hendrick Vandenberg of Michigan won it.

In the same month, the senator made a statement in a national magazine in which he said he thought it was easier to run for president than not to run. He explained how difficult it was to deny that one is a candidate, once the story got started. He mentioned the question of the "draft" and expressed an opinion similar to that of Roy Roberts of the Kansas City Star in connection with Gen. Dwight Eisenhower—namely, that there had never been a real "draft" in his day. Vandenberg said that, of course, no man would refuse the nomination if it were handed to him as an accomplished fact.

He was once frankly an isolationist. Today he has converted many others, and I believe that no single man has done more than he to break down the provincial attitude, especially in the Midwest, which before World War II prevented America from taking leadership in world affairs—leadership which might have postponed, if not entirely prevented, the war.

I do not believe that he is actually eliminated from the nomination, but we can be certain he will not fight for the job. He had the high vote at the Republican convention of 1940 when the Wilkie blitz struck.

Vandenberg's support of bipartisan policy doesn't mean that he gives a blank check to the administration. He favors the Marshall plan and aid to Greece and Turkey, but he refused to recognize that aid as the "Truman Doctrine," insisting it was not a doctrine at all.

THE BREAKS
Chile, Brazil Kiss Russia Good-By

Acting almost simultaneously, two South American nations—Brazil and Chile—curtly announced severance of diplomatic relations with Russia because, as they both implied, they couldn't stand it any longer.

Brazil, which had been in peacetime relations with Russia since 1934, had the least valid reasons for its action on the surface, at least. Stated reasons for the break was given as the "extremely outrageous and even calumnious" articles in the Russian press attacking Pres. Getulio Vargas and the Brazilian army.

Russia's Literary Gazette had called Vargas an incompetent soldier and a Fascist. It was the same magazine that had compared President Truman with Hitler, to which the U. S. strongly objected but took no further action.

Chile, however, had a more deep-seated grievance. Communist infiltration in the nation's southern coal zone, leading to recent labor difficulties there, undoubtedly spurred the decision to sever relations.

Chilean Pres. Gabriel Gonzalez Videla previously had accused the Communists of plotting to cripple Chile's production of copper, a strategic and other strategic materials and hamper defense of the western hemisphere and the United States. He also had announced his intention to "lend once and for all" what he called Communist dictatorship over Chile's mine workers.

And in a burst of thoroughness, Chile also ended diplomatic relationships with Czechoslovakia.

If no other end is accomplished, the action by Brazil and Chile at least may answer the question of whether Communist penetration into a nation actually can be halted by breaking diplomatic relations with Russia.

The Cornell results are in line with earlier tests of vitamins for soil scours in Michigan and Ohio. Even though the use of vitamins lacks encouragement, there is promise in another direction—the sulfas.

Sulfaguanidine, one of the faster acting sulfas, which has been used against dysentery in humans, also has been used successfully in calf scours treatment. In tests, a combination of sulfathiazole with lactin and pectin was more effective than either sulfathiazole or sulfaguanidine alone.

Career Opportunities Offered By Army

High school graduates who can qualify for admission in the Army General Service will find attractive opportunities for career service in the Infantry or Armored Cavalry through a combination of leadership courses and the Army's new general service plan. Major Arthur G. Yates, commanding sergeant, Ohio, U. S. Army, and Lt. A. C. Pierce, lieutenant colonel, Ohio, U. S. Army, are speaking today. Yates explained that all Army General Service recruits who show potential leadership ability and interest in career opportunities are given an opportunity to qualify for a new career potential course which prepares them for the responsibilities of noncommissioned officers and for officers' leadership training. Sergeant Yates said that it possible for qualified men to become (later) army specialists making course even before they are

"You're feeling something here?"
 "I'm a pig! Just couldn't help it," she added with a blush.
 Jimmy grinned. "Won't have any regrets who aren't good feeders."
 She laughed. Jimmy heard silver bells. Her laughter worked fast. What eyes stayed alive now. Jimmy would like to spend a week feeding this girl. He had learned she was called "Betty." Jimmy thought "Betty" was his favorite name. By the time Mike brought second aid, he had her feeling. He kissed it. He saw the honest, brown and jet-black from small hours. Jimmy told job-hunting yams, too; made them light, set them in a beautiful past. She loved the one about the boss's secretary who talked up her letters which Jimmy corrected until a prize ball slipped by and the boss got wise. "And I was the one the boss bawled out," Jimmy added. "Called it my fault for coddling the girl and spoiling her."
 That was while they sipped demitasses.

dump a little too fast! He was fine judge of women!

Jimmy's phone was ringing as he stumbled into his apartment. "Mr. Wheeler?" a remote voice said. "This is Mr. A. B. Fletcher's secretary. Could you see Mr. Fletcher here tomorrow morning? He didn't tell me to call you but he spoke about you today. Said he'd hoped you'd be over your grouch and back on your old job before this. I'm just tipping you off."

"Well!" Jimmy exploded. "I'm sorry—you're not Miss Moseley!"

"Mr. Fletcher's old secretary? No. She's left him. I got a feeling from things I heard at luncheon today there might be a vacancy where you said you used to work. And I got a feeling you'd be relieved if I found another job. I bought bargain clothes and tried it."

The voice trailed off in silver bells that could not be disguised. Jimmy was beyond speech.

"Please, don't be mad, Mr. Wheeler. You saved my life. I'd pay back your money."

"The devil with the money!" Jimmy suddenly felt all right. "I'll be around if you think Fletcher will have the fatted calf ready—and you'll have luncheon with me."

"Maybe we'll have Mike cook the fatted calf," said Betty.

Poets and Their Garlic
Homer had a sincere respect for garlic, to which he attributed the estimable property of "dispelling enchantments." With us, the Roman poet and bishop, Sidenius Apollinaris, born at Lyon in 402 and known also as Calixt Sullius, held garlic in such contempt that he wrote: "Happy the nose that is never exposed to the poisonous exhalations of this plant." By the same token, an order of chivalry, ignoring ribaldry, exacted in its regulations the agreement that each member should abstain from garlic and onions from January to December. This strange order existed in Castile about the middle of the 14th century and the ban on garlic and onions was said to have been placed by the king.

THE telephone is no excuse for poor manners or lack of courtesy. Perhaps the worst telephone here is the one who starts "Wrong number!" and hangs the receiver.

Another nuisance is asking the person who answers, "How is that?" If you are the one called, give your name and ask the questioner when calling friends who will give about your health or be glad to help you in any way to thank them. Pay for the call when visiting and for hotel calls when service is limited.

First Grade News

The First Grade had a party Thursday, October 23. There were three Jack 'n' Jill parties. One for each group. We read Halloween stories. We had candy in our Jack 'n' Jill boxes and had our 'pretzel' contest. Mrs. Ann Meeker brought some cookies and John Ellement brought the apples. Our teacher brought the orange juice. After that we had party. Everyone seemed to enjoy the party.

Second Grade News

Wanda Lawrence went to Massfield and rode in a new airplane.

We visited Mr. Wallace to our Halloween party Thursday, October 30th.

We are through another afternoon reading book. Now one group after another is reading stories to our class.

Our class is planning to visit the County Farm and learn next Friday forenoon.

Third Grade News

Some of the children in our grade went on a trip last week end. Nancy Jones visited at Portville. Nancy Ross was at Corning. Marianne Kelly visited in Salamanca. Joyce Green was in Salamanca and she saw the Allegany Indian Reservation.

Our reading group has started to read "Streets and Roads".

Letter To The Editor

I have been quite pleased to observe in the last issue of The Advocate, notice of the program being made in the building of the Rod and Gun Clubhouse on the Casino lot at the top of the hill on the Merian road. The few Angelicans who remember me, with one exception, know that I was an enthusiastic "rod and gunner". And I have often thought to be that way until the time when my vision failed. And I think anybody will agree that, such a failure is hard, disconcerting to a "rod and gunner". And in the last issue's Advocate the writer mentioned his account of the Rod and Gun Clubhouse activities with a special note to me for which I wish to express my sincerest thanks. It is a pleasure for an old man like me to know that somebody remembers him, even if I don't know who that person is. In reply, I will say, I believe I can guess the location of the clubhouse within 10 feet. You see, my back in the 1930's a bunch of young sealwags built a clubhouse on that same spot. The only living member of that gang so far as I know are Dr. Frank Warner and me. The building of that shack required considerable night work bootlegging, deserted piles of old lumber and a few tumbled down and deserted buildings furnished the bulk of the material used in building. So please convey my best wishes for further success and prosperity to the Angelica Rod and Gun Club.

Second Grade News
Willis ...
...and ...

We are through another afternoon reading book. Now we are going after another in reading stories to our class.

Our class is planning to visit the County Park and horse next Friday forenoon.

Third Grade News
Some of the children in our grade went on trips last week and Nancy Jones visited at Portville. Nancy Jones was at Corning. Marianne Kelly visited in Salamanca. Joyce Green was in Salamanca and she saw the Allegany Indian Reservation.

Our reading group has started to read "Streets and Roads". The girls in our grade have had perfect attendance for two straight weeks.

We had no school Friday because the teachers went to Alfred-Almond to a conference.

Many of us are going to the Halloween party at the Court House Friday night.

Fifth Grade News
We are getting ready for our quarterly tests.

We have drawn and cut Halloween scenes and put them up around the room.

Our class is very much interested in studying Boston.

Mrs. Weidman treated us to some home-made cookies.

Football
Three inter-class football games were played last week. The Senior Class played the Junior Class and beat them 18-0. The Seniors beat the eighth period gym class with a 6-0 margin, which was made more or less accidentally. In the other game the eighth grade tied the Freshman Class with the score of 12 all.

The play-off will be on a future day. The score of the game between the Seniors and the combined resources of the Freshman, Sophomores, and the Juniors will be reported next week.

Basketball
Basketball practice began Monday.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH

BANKWOOD HILL
Richard E. Gross, Minister

It was a Christian school. The subject of the grammar lesson was pronouns. The teacher had told the children that a pronoun is "a word used instead of a noun." She asked Mary to illustrate by reading the fifty-third chapter of Isaiah and to emphasize the pronouns. Mary read and recited OUR sorrows . . . HE was wounded FOR OUR transgressions; HE was bruised FOR OUR iniquities; the chastisement OF OUR peace was upon HIM, and with HIS stripes WE are healed.

Mary had preached a sublime sermon. In a sense, the Christian message is one of personal pronouns. "Christ died for me; in my stead, my punishment He bore; my debt He paid; my life He gained."

You must say that!

About 2000 Families IN RURAL NEW YORK WILL RECEIVE TELEPHONE SERVICE DURING THE CURRENT MONTH

Installing telephone service, like running a farm, means a lot of different jobs have to be done. It requires a lot of different tools, materials and skills.

Increasing quantities of the new equipment we need, such as poles, wire and complex central office apparatus, are reaching us every day. All of it is being put to work with the utmost speed so that more and more folks can have the comfort and convenience of a telephone. Meanwhile, we are sparing no effort to give the best service possible to our present customers.

We're making excellent progress with our rural program. As a result, this month about 2000 new families in New York's rural areas will have a telephone.
