Special Meetings at Baptist Church

First For Angelica" special which are to begin Sunday, November 23, will be held at the Baptist Church. Service time is 10:00 o'clock Friday morning, November 21st. Rev. Daniel P. McCarthy, Pastor, will be in charge of the Requiem Mass. Interment will be in Sacred Heart Cemetery, Wellsville.

Owen Francis Duffy

The death of Owen Francis Duffy, resident of Angelica for the past ten years, occurred Tuesday morning in Belmont Hospital at Wellsville, following a long illness. Mr. Duffy was born at Wellsville on August 19th, 1886, the son of Owen and Anna Desmoy Duffy. Surviving are his wife, Catherine Rockwell Duffy, three daughters, Rita of Huron, Jack Owen Jr., home, three sons, also surviving, and James at home. Also surviving are four brothers, James, Patrick, Bernard and John Duffy and one sister, Catherine Duffy, all of Wellsville. Funeral services will be held at Sacred Heart Church, Angelica, at 10:00 o'clock Friday morning, November 21st. Rev. Daniel P. McCarthy, Pastor, will be in charge of the Requiem Mass. Interment will be in Sacred Heart Cemetery, Wellsville.

Legionnaires Win

The local quintet came from behind in the last quarter to beat out Belmont Legion Five 47-41 Tuesday evening on the local court, marking its third win in as many league games. Handicapped by loss of Skip Felder to an injured ankle, his entrance helped change the picture, and the team came through! However, the local Vets face a tough aggregation this Saturday night when they play at Cuba. Admittedly, the Acme towners are a formidable bunch with several ex-college players which definitely stamps them of championship caliber. Next Tuesday night Scio Post plays here and that's sure to be a close game as Scio recently beat Whitesville — which serves as a warning of itself. Having topped Wellsville, Whitesville and Belmont for three in a row, the locals are dead set on continuing their winning ways—let's turn out and help them rack up another in the win column.

P.T.A. News

The second monthly meeting of the recently organized P.T.A. in connection with Angelica Central School was well attended. The Meeting was called to order by the president Mrs. Lee Dodge. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary Mrs. Frank Coughlin, and other routine business was conducted. Mrs. Joseph Warner was the first speaker. Her topic was "to belong or not to belong to the state and national organizations". After listing the advantages of having a part in the larger group, Mrs. Warner closed by saying whatever the decision of the local organization, the close cooperation of teachers and parents would prove to be an advantage in either case. The vote was taken and the result was 45 in favor of joining the national organization to 18 against. Paul Sisson then took the floor as moderator of the round table discussion. He introduced Bernard Farnum of the faculty, who explained the school's marking system with the types of diplomas given at the close of the senior year. He also gave the reasons for this commencement program rather than the use of an outside speaker.

Food For the Babies Of Europe

Following the reading of a letter from the Most Rev. John F. O'Hara, C. R. C. Bishop of Buffalo, in all Catholic churches in the Diocese, last Sunday, regarding an appeal for "Food for Babies of Europe," a committee has been named to further plans. The Central office of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, 613 Lafayette Building, 6 Brounway, Buffalo 3, (Mohawk 5567) will serve as headquarters for this appeal. Rather than food itself, cash is being sought to buy food in wholesale quantities. Envelopes will be distributed in all Catholic churches on Sunday, November 23. These envelopes will be collected on Sunday, November 30. Speaking of this Thanksgiving appeal, Rt. Rev. Edward E. Swanstrom, Ph. D., executive director, War Relief Services, National Catholic Welfare Conference, said, "Although under Catholic auspices, War Relief Services—N.C.W.C., distributes relief throughout Europe to all classes of needy people, regardless of race, religious creed or color."

Special Meetings at the Baptist Church

The "Christ for Angelica" evangelists which are to begin Sunday, November 23, will be held at Baptist Church. Service time is 10:30.

Services are under the direction of the "Pulver Evangelistic Party." Marie Pulver of Elmira, is evangelist. Mr. Pulver has been in charge since he was 11 years of age, and for the past 11 years worked very extensively in evangelistic work. He has traveled in that period over 12 states, and comes recommended from the states in which he has been serving. Very interesting and inspiring, Mr. Pulver traveled to China, in 12 states, and Asiatic countries and traveled in a special effort in the Bible personally.

Rod and Gun Club

A Rod and Gun Club has been organized in the village of Angelica. The club is located in the mountains. Many people wonder how a small town club could become the owner of such a swell place. A location the club has wanted for years.

Progress Club

At the Progress Club meeting held last Wednesday evening with Mrs. Carlyle Smith, Rev. Daniel Kaiper of Fillmore reviewed his book "Alaska," not yet published. Members and guests present were much interested in the vivid account of the experiences of Mr. Kaiper and his wife while living in Alaska as missionaries.

Coffee and cakes were served by the officers of the club.

The next meeting will be the annual Christmas party to be held at the home of the president, Mrs. Joseph Warner, December 10th, fur-

Funeral services for Angelica at Sacred Heart Church, Angelica, at 10:00 o'clock Friday morning, November 21st. Rev. Daniel E. McGarry, Pastor, will be celebrant of the Requiem Mass. Interment will be in Sacred Heart Cemetery, Wellsville.

Mr. Duffy was a member of the Holy Name Society of Sacred Heart Church, and Hill-Warner Post No. 414 American Legion. He was a veteran of World War I, having served one year and eight months in the armed forces. He was the holder of the Purple Heart, Distinguished Service Cross and Citation signed by Commander-in-Chief John J. Pershing and a Presidential Citation, given for bravery under fire at St. Julien, France, in the rear of a comrad and commanding officer. Military services will be in charge of the local Hill-Warner Post No. 414.

Legion Auxiliary Meeting

The Auxiliary to the Legion of Hill-Warner Post met Tuesday evening of this week for their regular monthly meeting. A class of candidates was initiated.

The president, Mrs. Dolores Fleming, asked all members to bring to the Legion rooms Tuesday afternoon, November 23th, a gift for the Gift Shop at Bath Veterans' Hospital, the funeral of Owen Duffy Friday, meeting at the Legion rooms at 9:30 a. m.

Delegates to Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hall, delegate and associate delegate from the Angelica local attended the annual joint dinner of Wellsville businessmen and the Allegany County members of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association in the Wellsville High School cafeteria, Monday saying whatever the decision of the local organization, the close cooperation of teachers and parents would prove to be an advantage in either case. The vote was taken and the result was 45 in favor of joining the national organization to 18 against.

Paul Sisson then took the floor as moderator of the round table discussion. He introduced Bernard Parnum of the faculty, who explained the school's marking system with the close types of diplomas given at the close of the senior year. He also gave the reasons for this commencement program rather than the use of an outside speaker.

Mrs. Howard Haggstrom, who has had several years experience as a kindergarten teacher, was called on to explain the advantages of giving our young children that training.

She described the activities of a typical day in a kindergarten and typical day in a kindergarten and typical day in a kindergarten. "It closed her remarks by saying, "I don't know a question of whether we can afford to have a kindergarten, it is whether we can afford to be without it."

The group was entertained by Danny Lyon, who played a trumpet solo and and by the Misses Patricia Welch and Marilyn Chaffee, who were heard in a piano duet.

Coffee and cake were served in the cafeteria following the meeting.

Rod and Gun Club

A Rod and Gun Club has been organized in the village of Angelica. The club was organized on Nov. 10, 1947. The club is open to all persons who are interested in the sport of hunting and fishing. The club will meet on the second Wednesday of each month at 8:00 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. W. Smith. The club is a non-profit organization and its purpose is to promote the sport of hunting and fishing and to provide a place for the members to meet and discuss their interests.

Progress Club

At the Progress Club meeting held last Wednesday evening with Mrs. Charles Smith, Rev. Daniel Kalper of Fillmore reviewed his book "Alaska," not yet published. Members and guests present were much interested in the vivid account of the experiences of Mr. Kalper and his wife while living in Alaska as missionaries. Coffee and cakes were served by the officers of the club. The next meeting will be the annual Christmas party to be held at the home of the president, Mrs. Joseph Warner, December 10th, further notice of which will be given later.

Breakfast in Hollywood

A "Breakfast in Hollywood" sponsored by the Angelica Rebekah Lodge will be held in the Angelica Central School gym Tuesday evening, December 2nd at 8 p. m. Everyone is cordially invited. This will be carried out as nearly as possible like the one heard over the radio daily. There will be someone to impersonate Tom Brenaman, Corny, etc. Plans for all comers will be set at 7:30 p. m. at the school.

Guerdon L. Romain

The death of Guerdon L. Romain of Hornell occurred in Bethesda Hospital where he had been a patient for two weeks. He was 86 years old. He was well known in Angelica and was the husband of Mrs. Romain.

Legion Auxiliary Meeting

The Auxiliary to the Legion of Hill-Warrior Post met Tuesday evening of this week for their regular monthly meeting. A class of candidates was initiated. The president, Mrs. Dolores Flannery, asked all members to bring to the Legion room Tuesday afternoon the Legion money. The club will meet on the second Wednesday of each month at 8:00 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. W. Smith.

The local Auxiliary will attend the funeral of Owen Duffy Friday, December 10th, at 10:00 a. m. at the funeral home.

Delegates to Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hall, delegate and associate delegate from the Angelica local attended the annual joint dinner of the Wellsville High School cafeteria, Monday night. Other local people attending were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Isaman and Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Benjamin. The guest speaker was Mr. S. K. Rodenhurst, who discussed the importance of business of a prosperous agriculture and the necessity for understanding each other's problems. There are approximately 550 members of the Dairymen's League in Allegany County, who last year produced more than 60 million pounds of milk.

Women's Auxiliary Meeting

The meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Episcopal Church held with Mrs. T. C. Thornton was a very successful one. Mrs. Howard Haggstrom, who has had several years' experience as a kindergarten teacher, was called on to explain the advantages of giving our young children the training of a kindergarten. Mrs. Haggstrom described the activities of a kindergarten day in a kindergarten and closed her remarks by saying, "I would like to have a kindergarten in our school. We will attempt to be with you in the future." The meeting was held on Tuesday evening, December 9th, at 8:00 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. W. Smith.

At the regular meeting in the village of Angelica and the Club held on Nov. 8, 1947 a resolution was passed to the following effect: "That it is the desire of the members to have the name of the Club changed to 'The Angelica Conservatory Club' such name being recommended as more appropriate for the club." The resolution was adopted by a vote of 10 to 2. The next meeting will be held on the second Wednesday of each month at 8:00 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. W. Smith.

Income Tax Spectre Haunts Next Session of Congress

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator

WASHINGTON—It is a cloudy fall day, and the last tattered leaves are blowing nervously on otherwise-bare branches, whether it is better to make the plunge now or wait for more favorable prospects.

Those leaders, like the uncertain masses, are wondering whether the new income tax bill, carefully reworked and furnished with what they hope is non-bounceable equipment, will bring in the votes this time.

Down the block and across the street in an office-building where the picture on the walls is hardly dry, all their opposition members of the Democratic national committee, in their brand-new quarters. They are hopefully predicting that any effort to make this tax reduction bill a law when the world is trembling on the edge of disaster, will boom.

Baukhage

Democrats say that if a tax reduction bill should pass, is vetoed and the veto overridden, what it does for the folks with over $5,000 income a year will be balanced off by what it doesn't do for the folks below that income bracket.

Yes, remember the original bill (H. R. 1) the first bill into that it gives uncommonly little to the common man and is balm of gilead for the high brackets.

Republicans counter with the assertion that tax relief is a crying need. They feel Americans will not be too angry if their financial load is lightened at the expense of Europe, provided that emergency relief is voted and perhaps a Marshall plan accepted in principle but considerably shaved down as to the total actually authorized.

You may have read the report "Taxes and the Budget: a Program for Prosperity in a Free Economy," a document issued by the non-partisan, non-profit Committee for Economic Development. This group employs a large staff of experts who study governmental problems and report on them at frequent intervals.

There is much in this latest report to give aid and comfort to the tax-reduction school, but it also contains the warning that "it is not necessary or desirable to make final decisions about 1948 tax policies at this time. It will be necessary early next year. At that time, it will be possible to get a clearer picture of the expenditure outlook ahead and of the degree of inflationary pressure which then exists."

Big 4 Harmony Remote; Grain Men Ask Hearing

BIG FOUR:

Pessimism

With the imminence of the most vital international occurrence of recent months—the Big Four foreign ministers meeting in London on November 25—the mood surrounding the coming conference was predominantly one of pessimism.

That there was much justification for such pessimism, no one doubted. When the chief representatives of the U. S., Great Britain, France and Russia come together they will tackle the tough, deadlocked problems of writing peace treaties for Germany and Austria.

Deputy foreign ministers, in London to dispense with preliminaries before Marshall, Molotov, Bevin and Bidault put their heads together, said the powers were as badly minor economic law is operating in this particular controversy:

Normal government reaction, whenever grain prices shoot above what is considered a safe level, is to lay the blame on the grain exchanges, charging them with manipulating prices through speculation. That has occurred often enough in U. S. history to bear out the theory. Grain dealers, of course, invariably blame the situation on over-exporting.

From that standpoint, at least, an investigation at this time should shed some new light on the long-standing controversy. It might even provide some real information on why prices are so high.

Organic Matter Rids Cropland of Bacteria

Viruses Prevent Plant Diseases From Spreading

By R. C. THOMAS

Few disease-causing bacteria will survive in soil whose organic matter supply has been built up by the use of green manure crops and the return of crop residues and manure. Those that do live are so changed that they are no longer a menace to crops.

Extracts from soil rich in organic matter contain viruses that depend for their existence upon living bacteria. These viruses are especially numerous in organic matter added the plaster on the walls is hardly dry, in their opinion, members of the Democratic national committee, in their brand-new quarters. They are hopefully pre-empting that any "after" tax reduction bill a law when the world is trembling on the edge of disaster, will boom-erang.

Democrats say that if a tax reduction bill should pass, is vetoed and the veto overridden, what it does for the folks with over $5,000 income a year will be balanced off by what it doesn't do for the folks below that income bracket.

You remember the original bill (H.R. 1) the first bill into 1947. At it booper January 3, 1947. At that time Democrats labelled it the 10-30-30 bill, with two dependents and $4,000 a year income only $25.00 a week, while it would save the man with a $100,000 yearly income $200 a week.

But that tax reduction bill and a later tax substantially the same were scuttled by presidential veto and complete repeal of everything now are considered of something new (and very attractive) has been added—a community property tax provision for every taxpayer.

Briefly this means that a husband and wife may divide their income into two equal parts, computing the tax on each of these parts, and multiplying by two. This naturally cuts the total amount of tax to be paid. Under present tax schedules, for example, the tax on two joint incomes of $50,000 each comes to less than the tax on a $100,000-net income because of the steeply-graduated sur-tax rates.

This group employs a large staff of experts who study governmental problems and report on them at frequent intervals.

There is much in this latest report to give aid and comfort to the tax reduction school, but it also contains the warning that "it is not necessary or desirable to make final decisions about 1948 tax policies at this time. It will be necessary early next year. At that time, it will be possible to get a clearer picture of the expenditure outlook ahead and the degree of inflationary pressure which then exists."

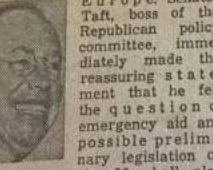

But the question of "inflationary pressure" and how to ease it is already a highly political war. Both parties realize that they have to grab the reins if they are going to get credit for guiding the country out of a boom-bust cycle.

Pessimism
With the imminence of the vital international occurrence of recent months—the Big Four foreign ministers meeting in London on November 25—the mood surrounding the coming conference was predominantly one of pessimism. That there was much justification for such pessimism, no one doubted. The chief representatives of the U. S., Great Britain, France and Russia came together they tackled the tough, deadlocked problems of writing peace treaties with Germany and Austria.

Deputy foreign ministers, in London to dispense with preliminary talks before Marshall, Molotov, Bevin and Bidault put their heads together, said the powers were as badly split as ever on major issues.

If the conference fails, as is very likely to do, the U. S. will have to face the question of whether or not it wants to conclude a separate peace with that portion of Germany outside the Russian-occupied zone. Such a treaty, not involving the Soviets, probably would precipitate a final split between the nations of Russia.

Nevertheless, sentiment has been rising in the U. S. favoring such action if the Soviets refuse to cooperate in straightening out problems of Germany. James H. Byrnes, former secretary of state, advocated that course, as did other responsible officials.

The corollary to that proposition is that the U. S. then must follow through by keeping itself strong militarily and economically, proving to the rest of the world that it has embarked on a definite policy course and that that course is the right one.

From that standpoint, at least, an investigation at this time should shed some new light on the long-standing controversy. It might even provide some real information on why prices are so high.

to the soil through residues from grasses, legumes and grain crops. When these viruses come in contact with plant disease forming bacteria they have a profound influence on them, changing the form of these bacteria and making them harmless so far as plants are concerned.

The intensity of competition for food materials and life itself, among organisms inhabiting soil particles, are indicated by the fact that a single ounce of soil has an estimated living population of 50 million bacteria cells, besides many forms of fungi. Added to these are five million protozoa, as well as other forms of organisms. Beneficial bacteria thrive best in soil well-stocked with organic matter and tend to crowd out the disease-causing kinds.

and the unpaid tax liability (and every situation) has been added a community property tax provision for every taxpayer.

Briefly this means that a husband and wife may divide their income into two equal parts, computing the tax on each of those parts, and multiplying by two. This naturally cuts the total amount of tax to be paid. Under present tax schedules, for example, the tax on two joint incomes of $55,000 each comes to less than the tax on a $100,000-net income because of the steeply-graduated surtax rates.

GOP Confident Of Bill's Passage

Thirteen states — Oregon, Washington, California, New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada, Idaho, Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Nebraska, Michigan and Pennsylvania — already have community property tax provisions. So has Hawaii. The provision, if inserted in a federal tax bill, would put citizens of the other 35 states on the same basis.

The money savings under the community property tax clause would not benefit those married couples whose combined net income is less than $5,000 because the rates don't change up to that point. That is why opponents say this community property tax proposal, too, is aimed at saving money for the bigger taxpayers and doesn't help out the little fellows (although the tax advisor to the ways and means committee tells me that neither would any benefits accrue under this provision to the married couple whose combined income is $5,127,000 a year).

But the Republicans feel sure that this proposal would carry a tax-reducing bill through. They claim many Democrats living in states contiguous to the community property tax states would support it.

Here's the way Democrats view the situation:

They know that the last tax bill might have been passed over the veto; some say it certainly could have been passed, had it included the community property tax provision. These are not pleasant thoughts.

When President Truman requested the fact that he intended to use the emergency session of congress opening November 17, not merely to consider aid to Europe, but also to ponder a program for lowered prices, it "upset the apple cart," as one Republican said to me. An agreement had been reached to give priority to aid to Europe.

Taft

Senator Taft, boss of the Republican policy committee, immediately made the reassuring statement that he felt the question of emergency aid and possible preliminary legislation on the Marshall plan could and would be satisfactorily taken care of by December 19. He didn't say what else, if anything, he had in mind for the boys on the hill to handle. But he did assure them they would be home well before the Christmas holidays.

Then came the Truman announcement that efforts to check inflation would be considered on a par with the aid-to-Europe plan. He said the two were closely interwoven because if the dollar continued to shrink, the purchases of supplies couldn't be stretched to meet the need.

After that Taft lost little time in tossing any implied bi-partisan program for the congressional session to the winds. If Truman was to include consideration of a domestic economy program, all bets were off. "All of the policies of the present administration," said Senator Taft, were so bad he couldn't "go along with them."

Grain Battle

Three of the nation's major grain exchanges, smarting under President Truman's accusation that their "speculation" is responsible for prevailing high prices of cereals, have carried the attack into the enemy camp by requesting a special congressional investigation by the joint committee on the economic report.

The request was made by the Chicago board of trade, Kansas City board of trade and the Minneapolis grain exchange in a letter to Sen. Robert Taft (Rep., O.) and Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott (Rep., Mich.), co-chairmen of the committee. Taft responded immediately with a promise of further hearings.

Countering Mr. Truman's repeated charges that gambling and speculation by grain exchanges has boosted food prices higher, the exchange officials contended that the real cause of the rise in grain prices is the administration's "extraneous and ever increasing purchases of grain and flour export." Administration "bungling and lack of planning" also were cited by the grain officials.

Wherever the truth may lie—and it probably is somewhere midway between the government and grain exchange viewpoints—it should be recognized that a force akin to a

RED CZECHS: Go Communist

Add Czechoslovakia to the list of Communist-dominated nations in Eastern Europe.

A man named Klement Gottwald, Communist premier of Czechoslovakia, has emerged as a new strong man, possessing complete authority from the national cabinet to rebuild the government of semi-autonomous Slovakia.

Rebuilding the government of the semi-autonomous nation will mean simply that Gottwald and his Communists will change Czechoslovakia from a nation whose people had at least a part measure of self-government to a nation under totalitarian rule.

Although the Slovak Democrats, predominantly conservative, are the majority party in the country, the Communists were able to place Gottwald, a former blacksmith, in complete power.

Thus Czechoslovakia has shifted from a position as a Soviet satellite with some will of its own to a lower position as a Russian dominated state with literally no self-determination. It has become another unit in the string of Soviet buffer states to the south and west.

Here's the way Democrats view the situation:

They know that the last tax bill might have been passed over the veto; some say it certainly could have been passed, had it included the community property tax provision. They are not flippant about the necessary two-thirds vote this time to override a veto.

But Democrats nourish this hope: That if tax debate is insisted upon before the question of lower prices and European aid (including the long-range Marshall plan as well as emergency aid) is settled, the public will say Republicans are fiddling with politics while Europe burns and will repudiate those Republicans at the polls.

Even if a tax bill should surmount the veto-hurdle, Democrats still hope it will boomerang on the familiar argument, mentioned earlier,

Curbs Off, Prices May Go Up

Government controls on the favored American practice of installment buying went off November 1, and from now on the purchase of that radio or refrigerator is strictly a matter between you and the dealer unless congress decides to step in again at the special session.

One result of the removal of installment buying curbs is very likely to be an increase in the already badly swollen prices of consumer goods.

Under the law, now out of effect, a down payment of one-third of the purchase price was required of anyone buying on the installment plan. Now, however, the rule book has been thrown away, and retailers doubtlessly will reduce the amount of the initial payment.

Attracted by the lure of "easy terms," hard-pressed householders now may see their way clear to buying needed items that they felt they could not afford before. With the down payment and installment terms relaxed, demand for goods is sure to rise; but it is certainly far from sure that the supply of such goods will increase accordingly.

Thus, if the old law of supply and demand follows its natural bent, prices will rise too, or the day of falling prices will be postponed.

Installment credit, economists say, is a volatile factor in our economy and can be a considerable force operating to help bring about a depression.

When goods are available on easy credit terms, consumers are tempted to buy to the limit. They over-pledge their incomes. This accentuates the boom and eventually a saturation point is reached. The excessive credit has to be liquidated out of current income on the downswing, and so the depression, if one is already in the making, is given a further impetus.

The income is high and the overhead because the farmer is doing efficiently.

The same acreage, operated as a general farm with a chickens, a few cows, a hogs, a few acres of wheat, corn or hay, could produce a maximum gross, even in these high prices, of only $4,000 or $5,000, with a net more than $2,000.

The farmer would be merciful of a custom ball picker, combine or hayloade would be forced to do it hard, old-fashioned way. He would frequently suffer losses because machinery was not available his crops were ready. He or sudden decline in price him or reduce him to level.

I suspect that in operation the old-fashion farm will have become except in poor agriculture where a few farms old ways. Anyone with eye driving through country can see for wanting of the old pattern.

plan. Now, however, the rule book has been thrown away, and retailers doubtlessly will reduce the amount of the initial payment.

Attracted by the lure of "easy terms," hard-pressed households now may see their way clear to buying needed items that they felt they could not afford before. With the down payment and installment terms relaxed, demand for goods is sure to rise, but it is certainly far from sure that the supply of such goods will increase accordingly.

Thus, if the old law of supply and demand follows its natural bent, prices will rise too, or the day of falling prices will be postponed.

Installment credit, economists say, is a volatile factor in our economy and can be a considerable force operating to help bring about a depression.

When goods are available on easy credit terms, consumers are tempted to buy to the limit. They overpledge their incomes. This accentuates the boom and eventually a saturation point is reached. The excessive credit has to be liquidated out of current income on the downswing, and so the depression, if one is already in the making, is given a further impetus.

Lately there has arisen in the mind of the writer doubts concerning two patterns of American life in which all of us have taken great pride in the past. These are unwelcome doubts but observation and study of the patterns in relation to the highly integrated industrialized world in which we live make them unavoidable. They are:

1. That the old-fashioned plowneer pattern of self-sufficient general farm is doomed.
2. That our present complicated, complex economic civilization cannot afford countless small enterprises save under very exceptional circumstances.

Both doubts are certain to arouse protest and even abuse, but both deserve the consideration of every thoughtful citizen.

... is an American pattern growing out of life upon isolated frontiers and no longer fits into a highly complex national economy. A few acres of corn or oats or wheat or hay cannot support a corn picker, a combine or a hay baler. Therefore the general farmer is at once at a great disadvantage, in competing with the corn farmer, the wheat farmer or the specialist grass farmer or the fruit farmer, all of whom are doing efficient jobs along specialist lines with the high degree of mechanization which any specialist enterprise can support.

Because the general farm cannot support a high degree of mechanization, the general farmer must work long hours, do things in an old-fashioned, slow and inefficient way. His gross income is almost certain to be only a fraction of that of the specialist in dairying, grass farming, corn and hogs, fruit, potatoes or any other undertaking where a man is doing one or two things efficiently and well, instead of 10 or 15 things inefficiently, slowly and painfully.

It is all part of the vast agricultural revolution now in progress and it is the result of pressures from our highly integrated, mechanized industrialized civilization. The farm is no longer a frontier outpost in the defense against Indian attack when it was necessary to produce nearly everything that was consumed.

In most productive areas of the U. S. today, a farmer is an integral part of our social, mechanical, economic structure using electricity, gasoline, machinery, prepared feeds and other things which bind him into the whole structure so that he must integrate himself and his farm into the structure in order to survive.

The farmer of the future will not be a hunter-trapper-farmer, but a businessman, a scientist and a specialist. All of us will benefit by the change in terms of prices lowered through efficiency, in terms of health and in terms of taxes which no longer will be needed to subsidize farms living by a pattern which has become obsolete and which, in the past, has cost us dearly in many ways.

The passing of the general farm does not mean the end of the farm plan is. A specialized farm of 100 acres operated under an efficient plan produces 5 to 10 times as much income with much less labor

Thanksgiving Tips

As the days bring with them that cooler-than-fall feeling, as the frost gathers lightly on the pumpkin, we instinctively know it's time to talk of turkey and Thanksgiving.

If families gather at this season, as is the time-honored custom, you'll want a regal bird that's done to fork-tenderness, besides being golden brown and juicy.

Around the bird, you'll want to assemble those foods that complement it best—snow-white onions with a light cream sauce to mask their sharpness, crisp green brussels sprouts, savory with stock and bread crumbs, and sweet potatoes.

To prepare the bird, follow these steps:

- 3 cups cooked prunes
- 1 small grated onion
- 1 cup finely chopped celery
- 2 1/2 cups fried bread crumbs
- 1 cup prune juice
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans, if desired
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- Salt and pepper

Wash and soak the prunes. Cook them in water in which they were soaked, until tender. Cool, remove and chop. Fry onion and celery in two tablespoons of fat until soft. Mix thoroughly with fried bread crumbs, prunes, prune juice, pecans and seasonings.

Season the neck and body cavity of the bird lightly. Fill neck with dressing and skewer the neck skin to the back. Bring wing tips onto the body cavity with dress-

I know of one specialist farm of 160 acres, raising apples, raspberries and hybrid seed corn which last year grossed $33,000. It is highly mechanized. Alfalfa is grown not to feed cattle but to mulch orchards and raspberries. The labor schedule is balanced the year round with no peaks and no slack periods. All attention is focused upon the three specialties and high production yields per acre rather than gambling upon high prices to survive is the basis of all operations. The income is high and the hours short because the farmer is operating efficiently.

Black Flags Spur Army Safety Plan

FORT LEWIS, WASH.—Designed to keep army personnel "accident conscious," a new safety program has been launched by Fort Lewis officials.

Separate unit headquarters are issued white flags, to be flown from the roofs of headquarters buildings. In case of an accident resulting in hospitalization or death of unit personnel, the white flag is taken down and replaced with a black flag.

Never Too Old

ALBANY, N. Y. — You can teach an old dog new tricks, insists State Sen. Thomas C. Desmond, chairman of a legislative group investigating problems of the aged. As proof, he offers evidence that one old-timer "over 65" listed himself as an "apprentice" on a questionnaire.

5,000 for Needy

The auction climaxed a project commenced a year ago when residents of the village decided to do something to relieve worldwide suffering and to promote human understanding.

Three charitable institutions, National Catholic Welfare association, Protestant Restoration fund and United Jewish appeal, will share in the proceeds. Nine needy families in foreign countries will be aided.

ing, but do not pack it tight. Skewer or fasten opening to back in the dressing. Tie leg ends down to the tail.

To roast the bird first grease the skin with melted or softened fat. Place the bird on a rack, breast down, in a shallow pan which does not have a fat cover with a fat-moistened cloth that is large enough to go over the top and sides.

Roast in preheated oven set at proper temperature.

An 8 to 10 pound bird is set in a 325 degree oven for 3 to 3 1/2 hours.

A turkey four pounds heavier requires the same temperature oven, but is allowed four hours longer to cook. For birds larger than 14 pounds use a 300 degree oven and add 1/2 hour of cooking time for each four pounds. A 20-pound bird, for example, will take five to six hours to roast.

Do not add water or cover pan while roasting. If drippings burn, the oven is too hot. If the cloth covering the bird dries during cooking, remoisten from fat at bottom of pan. Turn bird breast up when about 3/4 done. Remove cloth if more browning is desired.

Test for doneness when meat feels soft. This is done by pressing the thickest part of the drumstick with fingers. The leg joint also should move readily when turkey is done.

LYNN SAYS: Try These Tips for Cold Weather Cooking

Ever use gingerbread as bread? It makes the perfect bread for dried fruit sandwiches. Try cream cheese for the spread in place of butter if you want a special treat.

Those apple pies you can't resist will be more so if you roll some cheese into the crust. And don't forget to brush the tops of the crust with milk if you want that special golden brown color.

Make a syrup of the sugar and water, cooking five minutes after it starts to boil. Add the cranberries and cook until clear, then run all through a fine sieve. Cool and add the fruit juices. Freeze in refrigerator trays. This may be made the day before using.

Chilton Pumpkin Pie.
(Makes 9-inch pie)
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup milk
2 eggs cooked pumpkin
1/4 cup whipping cream
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 9-inch crust
Soften gelatin in water. Add sugar, salt, sugar and milk to double boiler. Heat to boiling point. Remove from heat, add gelatin and stir until dissolved. When cold, beat in whipped cream and vanilla. Pour into crust and chill. Sprinkle with crumbs and 2 graham crackers.

Crust: To 12 finely rolled graham crackers, add 2 tablespoons of sugar, 1/4 cup melted butter or substitute. Press in an even layer against the end bottom of a nine-inch pie plate.

Top a few cubes or slices of car-into fish chowder. It adds color and is a nice appetizer when broiled in bacon and broiled. Use your cereals with a bit of these for extra special flavor. Also helps add iron to the diet. Do you ever tried creamed beef on fluffy baked potatoes? It's a nice supper on busy days. Add a few peas for color. Be so inclined.

 ON COUNTY BOARD

The political complexion of Alleremains unchanged so far as majorities are concerned, as result of last General Election.

The new board will be composed of 25 Republicans and four Democrats as follows:

Supervisors In Annual Session

The annual session of the Board of Supervisors, to terminate in eight to ten days, with adoption of a budget and the fixing of a county tax rate for 1948 was begun Monday, November 10. One of the real problems to be dealt with by town representatives will be increased salaries for county officials and employees.

Monday's first order of business was consideration of corrections to tax rolls in the towns of Bolivar, Clarksville and Cuba.

Amounts needed for seven funds to go into the 1948 budget were presented: $8,200 for 4-H Club work, $5,935 for the Farm Bureau, $9,060 for the county laboratory, same as last year; $17,500 for the County Public Health Service, $150 for the County Officers Association, for the annual appropriation for the Southwestern Tier Blind Association, and funds for the County
 Sealer of Weights and Measures.

It was at this point, in the last item above, that higher pay for public work came to the fore.
 Sealer Allen W. Corwin, Wellsville, long and valued holder of that post, had sent out to all members of the board a mimeographed letter, set-

What Is Gratitude?

WHAT is gratitude, and why is its expression important to spiritual progress? Is not gratitude that spontaneous thankfulness and appreciation of good?
 How is it possible to know God, to gain an understanding of the Christ, Truth, without a corresponding sense of gratitude?

Christ Jesus expressed his grate-tude for God's help even at the tomb of his friend Lazarus. Standing before the tomb, surrounded by sorrowing relatives of the departed, our Master took time to give thanks to God: Humbly and fervently he said (John 11:41), "Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me." Then when he called out, "Lazarus, come forth," Lazarus came forth, restored to life before them all. Despite the alarming testimony of the physical senses, which claimed that man and life
 could be swallowed up by the grave, the Master rose to grateful recognition of the illness of God, Life, and his pure consciousness of Truth destroyed the seeming power of "the last enemy."

"Beloved, now are we the sons of God," wrote John (I John 3:2), "and it doth not yet appear what we shall be; but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is." . . . The son of God—man's true selfhood—must be ever conscious of the Father's loving-kindness, goodness, and love. Consequently, as the sons of God, can we ever fail to be grateful?
 Gratitude is the open door which allows the Christ to come into consciousness and dwell with us. Gratitude is inseparable from the recognition of man's divine sonship. Does

He asked for $1,000 for general expenses, against $900 last year, and $300 for extra help and new apparatus. No action was taken on any of these requests, referred to the Finance Committee.

Does the ungrateful person ever recognize his true relationship to God? . . .

The thought which says, "What have I to be thankful for?" is ignorant of God, and lacks true appreciation of His creation, which includes all good. We can learn to be grateful. The writer was once a very ungrateful person. For many years, when getting up in the morning, he used to pity himself because he had to go to work so early. Finally he learned that he must be more grateful. Accordingly he resolved to take time each morning to be grateful that he had a position to fill and useful work to do. Gradually his sense of gratitude increased until it brightened his entire sense of existence.

...of voters November 5 of the plan proposed by board leaders to continue the per diem plan of remuneration for town representatives. It was a vote of confidence in the board that so many citizens picked out for approval the last one of a row of questions across the entire face of the voting machine. The fixing of a daily rate of pay for the work of the solons is one part of the problem of increases in rewarding those who serve the public.

The new computing machine, voted purchased one year ago, is expected to aid in the vast amount of work Clerk Perkins and his assistants have in prospect in fixing tax rates for the villages and towns of the county, which work is usually completed shortly before the holiday season. It seems likely that the year's work will be ended during the three days preceding Christmas day.

Routine work continues, with the 1948 budget being possibly presented tomorrow, Friday.

magnify and glorify riches, doing a splendid thing, making it seem bigger, power, and making it seem bigger, and bigger! How they glorify riches, believing that it brings satisfaction and pleasure! If they could reverse their thinking, and magnify good, realizing God's altness and the holiness of all that is unlike Him, fear would be destroyed, and health and happiness would be more generally experienced.

It must be remembered, however, that gratitude is not expressed in words without deeds. He who is truly grateful feels a deep desire to bring comfort and joy to others, inspiring impelled by the love in his heart to acts of loving-kindness. In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mary Baker Eddy writes (p. 3): "Gratitude is much more than a verbal expression of thanks. Action expresses more gratitude than speech." Then let us fan the spark of gratitude in our hearts until it becomes a mighty flame, illuminating our upward pathway, chasing away the shadows of doubt and gloom, and shedding light, joy, and healing on all.—The Christian Science Monitor.

It disposes of an estate listed as exceeding in value $2,500 in personalty and exceeding $2,000 in real property. Lynn Gleason of Fillmore is executor and trustee.

The will was contested by an only daughter, Mrs. Loola H. VanDusen Dutton of Mt. Morris, who was cut off with a small portion of the estate from which she was to have only the income. After a five-day trial in County Court, a jury held on October 24, that Mrs. VanDusen was competent to make the January 29 will and was not unduly influenced.

Wellsville township, for the first time in 15 years, will be represented on the Board of Supervisors by a Democrat as result of the November 4th election's upset victory by Democrat Richard "Dick" Embser over Republican Supervisor James E. Randall.

Automobiles to Have Two License Plates Next Year

New York state motorists next year will get two new license plates for their cars for the first time since 1941.

Shortage of steel during the war was responsible for the single-plate system. Although two plates were manufactured for 1942, only one was issued. The same plate had to be used in 1943 with a small metal strip indicating the change in year.

The plates to the 1942 plates were restamped and issued in 1944. In the three years which followed new single plates were issued annually.

Main reason for returning to the double-plate system is to aid police enforcement agencies who have been handicapped in identifying cars by the single plate. Motorists also complained that the single plate was an annoyance to them in locating their automobiles.

GHOST ON BROADWAY

By ROBERT MERLAIN

IN THINKING of it afterward, Nettie Brainard could never get rid of the feeling that the light suddenly did change. In her empty tea room, the telephone on the cashier's desk rang. Although it was nearly noon, all of Broadway near Union Square seemed to dim to a queer, eerie twilight.

"Is this Miss Nettie Brainard?" a man's voice inquired.

"Yes," Nettie said into the instrument.

"Are you the daughter of Benjamin Brainard, deceased, and Nettie Sharp?"

"Yes. Yes, I am."

"Is your mother there?"

"She's busy in the kitchen just now. She'll be busy for half an hour. Who is this, please?"

"This is Thomas Sharp. Your Uncle Tom."

Nettie gasped. "Uncle Tom! But—but you are dead!"

The man's laugh had a hollow sound. "Not quite," he said.

"But five years ago, up home in Maine, we got a registered package," Nettie insisted, her voice shaking slightly. "It held four British bonds, and his—your passport, stamped in Chinese and Russian, and a letter from Harbin, signed by Jerry Argus, saying that you had—"

The man laughed again. "Now, Nettie, don't be so upset by this! Anything may happen in the Far East. Besides, I left home twenty-five years ago. Before you were born."

"Well," said Nettie swallowing.

"Now don't say anything to your ter, Nettie, at a time when her fiancé, Benjamin Brainard, was out of town on business. Nettie Sharp, then a girl of seventeen, had found Jerry Argus, the irresponsible wastrel, more enchanting than her businesslike and absent fiancé. Her parents ended that romance, but not before Jerry Argus and Nettie Sharp pledged eternal devotion in a secret meeting arranged by the black sheep Tom Sharp. It was a heartbreaking farewell.

Jerry Argus and Tom Sharp left together to hunt gold in Alaska, and after that adventured in the Far East. Young Nettie Sharp married Benjamin Brainard after all, and had one child, Nettie, before Benjamin Brainard died.

He told me about the operation your needs, which requires money. He told me more, Nettie, something about himself. But that was confidential."

Nettie's heart stopped beating. "Was it some other girl?" she cried.

"What did he tell you?" she cried. "Never mind. But, look, Nettie, this cash came from smuggling arms in a good cause. Let it do some good!"

He laid a brown envelope in Nettie's palm. His hand, she noticed, was weathered, and had on its back a large strawberry birthmark.

"But Uncle Tom!" she protested.

"But, now!" He got up. "Of course you wouldn't take ten thousand dollars from just anybody.

Absolutely SURE WAY
REMEMBER FOR 69 YEARS!

became friends for once. They assured her that she was not in some timeless world of the spirit. Instead, she was in the bustling world of today, where a girl of twenty-two, who loves a young doctor way back in her home town, is glad to stand by her ailing mother in New York, and try to make a tea room pay in a section where there is no room for tea rooms.

"Uncle Tom!" Nettie said again. All she could remember of him was that he was a black sheep, or something worse. Her own father, Benjamin Brainard, never would permit his name to be spoken. This was because, over twenty-five years ago, Tom Sharp nearly had broken off Benjamin Brainard's engagement to Nettie's mother.

Tom Sharp had brought home some ruffian named Jerry Angus, and had introduced him to his sister and hurrying to see his sister's daughter.

Just then the front door opened. In stepped a bouncy, stocky, gray-haired man.

"Well, Nettie," he said heartily, "come sit by your Uncle Tom. Yes, you've got your mother's bright brown eyes."

He had time to see of the kitchen table.

"Yes, yes, my dear. No one liked to be visited by a ghost!" He roared with laughter. "It was poor Jerry Angus who played that joke on me. Left me with no passport and no money. The crazy fool!" He glanced toward the kitchen.

"But I mustn't waste time like this. I found you by phoning the doctor in the old home town. The same name, but the son of the one I used to know. That's how time flies! . . ."

Nettie. Marry, Settle down. Don't miss love when it comes by."

He kissed her roughly on the mouth. Then he was gone, leaving Nettie feeling that this visit, from so mourned as dead, simply could not have happened.

The kitchen door opened. Nettie's mother began to tell her . . .

"You say?" Her mother was talking. "But his voice seemed to be the one I had heard on a girl. I kept expecting you to call me, Nettie. I wondered if I would know anyone I hadn't seen for so long. Like your Uncle Tom; well, I suppose I would know him."

She sat down and picked up a fork. "As for Jerry Angus," she went on, "the boy who wanted to marry me, years ago, I would know him anywhere. He had a strawberry birthmark on the back of his left hand." She cut off a bit of lettuce.

"Why are you suddenly looking so happy, Nettie? Do stop mooning, dear, and bring your mother her tea."

Probably it isn't right, but it certainly is human nature to pass judgment upon every stranger within a few seconds after you are introduced. Later you often-times have to reverse your judgment. That doesn't keep you from going ahead and judging everyone you meet.

Some of the men or women you meet win your heart immediately, even before they say a word. This they do by the expression on their faces. Others win you only after days or hours or weeks of association, which causes you to overlook the bad expression and rec-

Kidneys Must Work Well
 For You To Feel Well
 64 hours every day, 7 days every week, seven days, the kidneys filter waste matter from the blood. If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove poisons that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole system is upset when kidneys fail in function properly.
 Burning, stinging or too frequent urination sometimes warns that something is wrong. You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, rheumatic pains, getting up at night, swelling.
 Why not try Doan's Pills? You will quickly see Doan's Pills stimulate the function of the kidneys and help them to push out poisonous waste from the blood. They contain nothing harmful. Get Doan's today. Use with confidence. At all drug stores.

GHOST ON BROADWAY
By ROBERT McCLANE

tar, Nettie, at a time when her fiancé, Benjamin Brainard, was out of town on business, Nettie Sharp, then a girl of seventeen, had found Jerry Angus, the irresponsible wastrel, more enchanting than her businesslike and absent fiancé. Her parents ended that romance, but not before Jerry Angus and Nettie Sharp pledged eternal devotion in a secret meeting arranged by the black-sheep Tom Sharp. It was a heartbreaking farewell.

Jerry Angus and Tom Sharp left together to hunt gold in Alaska, and after that adventure in the Far West Young Nettie Sharp married Benjamin Brainard after all, and of one child, Nettie, before Benjamin Brainard died.

He told me about the operation your father needs which requires money. He told me more, Nettie. Something about himself. But that was confidential."

Nettie's heart stopped beating. "What did he tell you?" she cried. "Never mind. But, look, Nettie, this cash came from smuggling. It's in a good cause. Let it do some good!"

He laid a brown envelope in Nettie's palm. His hand, she noticed, was weathered, and had on its back a large strawberry birthmark. "But, Uncle Tom!" she protested. "Now, now!" He got up. "Of course you wouldn't take ten thousand dollars from just anybody,

He hid a brown envelope in Nettie's palm. His hand, she noticed, had on its back a large strawberry birthmark.

Tom Sharp became an occasional, rambling letter from some unknown far Eastern place. Then, from Harbin, his passport and his legacy had come to his sister.

Now Tom Sharp was alive again and hurrying to see his sister's daughter.

Just then the front door opened. In stepped a bouncy, stocky, gray-haired man.

"Well, Nettie," he said heartily, "come sit by your Uncle Tom. Yes, you've got your mother's bright brown eyes."

"Yes, yes, my dear. No one likes to be visited by a ghost!" He roared with laughter. "It was poor Jerry Angus who played that joke on me. Left me with no passport and no money. The crazy fool!" He glanced toward the kitchen. "But I mustn't waste time like this. I found you by phoning the doctor in the old home town. The same name, but the son of the one I used to know. That's how time flies!"

You've got too much pride for that, I hope. But blood's thicker than water, child. Besides, if you and your mother must have a tea room, this will let you have one back home.

Take the advice of a wanderer, Nettie. Marry. Settle down. Don't miss love when it comes by."

He kissed her roughly on the mouth. Then he was gone, leaving Nettie feeling that this visit, from one mounted as dead, simply could never have happened.

The kitchen door opened. Nettie's mother came out.

"How, son I begin to tell her?" she said. "Her mother was talking. 'But his voice seemed to be one I had heard as a girl. I kept expecting you to call me. Nettie. I wondered if I would know anyone I hadn't seen for so long. Like your Uncle Tom; well, I suppose I would know him.'"

She sat down and picked up a fork. "As for Jerry Angus," she went on, "the boy who wanted to marry me, years ago, I would know him anywhere. He had a strawberry birthmark on the back of his left hand." She cut off a bit of lettuce. "Why are you suddenly looking so happy, Nettie? Do stop moaning, dear, and bring your mother her tea."

LET'S TALK ABOUT YOU

WATCH WHAT YOUR FACE

Probably it isn't right, but it certainly is human nature to pass judgment upon every stranger within a few seconds after you are introduced. Later you often-times have to reverse your judgment. That doesn't keep you from going ahead and judging everyone you meet.

Some of the men or women you meet win your heart immediately, even before they say a word. This they do by the expression on their faces. Others win you only after days or hours or weeks of association, which causes you to overlook their dead-pan expression and recognize their worth.

The faces we like, the faces of personality, are beautifully described by Rosamond Lehmann in her novel, "The Weather in the Streets." One of Miss Lehmann's characters says to a friend:

"I like what—what breaks out behind the features and is suddenly there and gone again. I like a face to warm up and expand, and collapse and be different every night and from every angle . . . and not be above looking ugly or comic sometimes."

In other words, what this woman liked and what others like in a face is life, expression, vitality, animation. We all like faces that betray the emotions that go on behind the rather than the dull, colorless, cold, unresponsive faces. We want to know that there is friendship behind the faces we see.

Study the expression on your face. If it isn't what you think it ought to be, do what Napoleon did, what Cleopatra did. Practice facial expression until you develop this important outward evidence of personality into a great and enduring asset.

HOW TO CHANGE A TIRE AT NIGHT

This won't happen to you if you know

1. Get off the road quickly! If that can't be done, be sure you're parked on a straightaway, set a warning light 25 paces behind you. You're all the safer if that warning light is a flashlight powered by the new "Eveready" batteries—they outlast all other brands!
2. Smart motorists always keep two flashlights ready and handy! Pop up the other one for a working light. Remove your spare before jacking up the car. Keep all your size-changing tools packed together so you don't have to fumble around for them.

PROOF! IN THE LABORATORY, IN YOUR OWN FLASHLIGHT.

"EVEREADY" BATTERIES OUTLAST ALL OTHER BRANDS!

Brighter light, longer life! That's what you want in a flashlight battery. And that's what you get with "Eveready" brand batteries. Laboratory tests prove it. And the best "laboratory" of all — your own flashlight — proves it! That's why "Eveready" batteries outlast any other brand — because they outlast any other brand!

The Way of Love

Lesson for November 26, 1947

Mr. Newton

The Happy Way of Life

LOVE is the happy way of life. It is the only happy way of life. Children are happy in the home where children are truly loved, and I will have no difficulty in identifying that as a happy home. Little children yearn for love. Dogs reason why they like dogs. Dogs love little children, unless they are the wrong sort of dogs. And little children love dogs. If a dog can bring happiness to a little child by loving to the limit of its brute nature, how much more can parents, made in the image of God, bring happiness to little children by loving them.

Love Begets Love

JOHN declares, "This commandment have we from him, that he who loveth God love his brother also." 1 John 4:21.

Splendid Cough Relief is Easily Mixed at Home

To get quick and satisfying relief from coughs due to cold, mix this recipe in your kitchen. One trial, you'll never be without it.

First, make a syrup by stirring 1 cup granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments until dissolved. A child could do it. No cooking needed. Or you can use one cup of liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Then get 1/2 ounce of Pinex, the liquid form of vitamin A, B1, and C.

Put the Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This makes a...

The Way of Love
Lesson for November 21, 1947

SUNDAY'S lesson is based on the writings of John, 1 John 1:1-3, and John 21:15-22. Travelling on a plane at night, I talked at length with a group of business men. The conversation turned at least to the Bible. I asked the group for their favorite passages in the Bible. They named several passages, but the majority said they loved most the writings of John.

Dr. Newton said they loved this truth. John tells us about God and his love. That is the message of this lesson.

The Happy Way of Life

LOVE is the happy way of life. It is the only happy way of life. Children are happy to find me because that they are loved. Find me at home where children are truly loved, and I will have no difficulty in identifying that as a happy home. Little children yearn for love, and they respond in love. That is one reason why they like dogs. Dogs love little children, unless they are the wrong sort of dogs. And little children love dogs.

from the strange neighbors... discovered that the strange neighbor was an expert horticulturalist. Today they are great friends. They love one another.

Follow After Love
HERE you will need to read I John 27:11. We need not pass resolutions about better relations within nations and between nations unless we are willing to follow after love in the everyday relationships of life.

Just across the fence, just across the hedge, just across the hall, just across the way, narrow or wide it may be, is a human being who yearns for love. It is generally safe to assume that the people you see every day are lonely people. You may not understand why, but they are lonely.

What can you do to help them in their loneliness? That is where the water begins to hit the wheel in applying this lesson to everyday life.

In the pioneer days of our country, people were more neighborly, because they were aware of great danger—danger from Indians, danger from wild beasts, danger from the wilderness about them. This sense of danger drew them together. Today, with our walled apartments, we have lost some sense of interdependence. That is why we are so lonely. Follow the better self within you. Penetrate these barriers. Follow after love. And you will be happier as you make your neighbor happy.

The Way of Love
THE way of love is the way of Christ. "A new commandment I give unto you," said Jesus, "That ye love one another as I have loved you."

Not until we reach the point that we can look at life through the eyes of love—the eyes of the heart—can we know the joy which comes when we follow the way of love. It may sound very simple. That is the reason why it is so vital. It is the one way up and out for our frightened world. The way of love is the way God wants us to go today and tomorrow.

Football Broadcasts in 25th Year Among Most Popular on Air in U.S.

Today Hook-ups Use More Than 1,200 Radio Stations; Extensive Telephone Lines Also Required in Staging Numerous Gridiron Contests

As Princeton defeated Chicago 21-13 in the football thriller of October 23, 1922, in the Windy City, history was made by the radio broadcast of the game over Station WVEAF, now WNBC, in New York, so it became an exciting event for fans a thousand or more miles away. It was the first football game broadcast from a remote city and the forerunner of the vast hook-up in sports broadcasting today.

Engineers of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which then owned and operated the pioneer New York station, brought the program from Chicago over transcontinental telephone lines with special equipment, including connecting wires, transmitters and amplifiers on the football field. Easterners heard the play-by-play description of the contest not only by their individual crystal radio sets but by a public address system in City Hall Park in New York. They cheered and heard the cheers of the distant throng, and were tense, too, as Princeton's "Team of Destiny" stopped Chicago inches short of the goal line in the closing seconds of play.

The coach-to-scout telephone line, an innovation of recent years, today plays a vital role in many of the big college and professional football contests. In the recent Syracuse-Temple game at Syracuse, for example, the visiting Owls were ahead 12-0 in the second quarter, when the Orange scout from his perch in the stadium observed and diagnosed a definite weakness in the Orange line and blare. ties—about 60 per cent of the total serving various broadcasting groups featuring the seasonal sports programs of both college and professional games. Local telephone companies supply the remaining network lines. They also provide special telephone circuits to the radio announcer in the stadium for connection with his studio and for gathering facts for his broadcast.

Serving the radio needs for broadcasting is only part of the big communications job of the telephone companies in connection with popular grid iron contests. Each stadium frequently requires a number of telephones. There are lines to ticket booths, managing offices, the press box, players' dressing rooms, and to those in charge of the score board for speedy check on the scores. Special lines may also connect the coach on the side lines with his scouts high up in the stands giving helpful diagnosis of plays.

player to convey the information to the team. The skill in strategy makes the Syracuse winning 25-12.

One of the most extensive teams telephone communications in the state serves Yankee Stadium. In the park, where many other big college and professional games are played, part of this system is a two-point scoreboard taking about 60 messages about the stadium. Through this board and a 20-line multiple circuit several thousand calls are handled on a busy day.

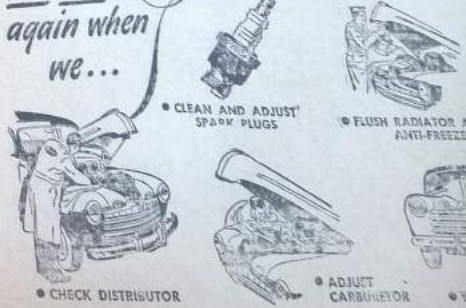

At the athletic department of Columbia University during the football season, checks and calls at more than a dozen telephone circuits a thousand or more calls day, many from distant points, conveying data and information about the progress.

At many other institutions, telephones literally buzz with calls from fans to work in "plugs" in big events.

through, and were tense, too, as Princeton's "Team of Destiny" stopped Chicago inches short of the goal line in the closing seconds of play.

Today, 25 years later, the football season of 1947 commands the facilities of more than 1,200 radio stations over the country, as millions of fans everywhere enjoy the gridiron contests. The Long Lines Department of the A. T. & T. alone supplies about 118,000 miles of program network facilities.

lines—about 60 per cent of the total serving various broadcasting groups featuring the seasonal sports programs of both college and professional games. Local telephone companies supply the remaining special telephone circuits to provide special telephones in the stadium for connection with his studio and for gathering facts for broadcast.

Serving the radio needs for broadcasting is only part of the telephone communications job of the telephone companies in connection with popular gridiron contests. Each stadium frequently requires a number of telephones. There are lines to ticket booths, managers' offices, the press box, players' dressing rooms, and to those in charge of the score board for speedy check on the scores. Special lines may also connect the coach on the side lines with his scouts high up in the stands giving helpful diagnosis of plays.

player to convey the information to his team. The skill in strategy is what Syracuse winning 24-12.

One of the most extensive stadium telephone communications systems serves Yankee Stadium in New York, where many other big college and professional games are played. The heart of this system is a two-position switch-board linking about 60 stations about the stadium. Through his board and a 20-line multiple system several thousands calls are handled on a busy day.

At the athletic department also of Columbia University during its football season, checks and calls at more than a dozen telephones serve a thousand or more calls daily, many from distant points, conference calls and information about the team.

As many other big stadiums, the wires usually hang with only four wires to work in, playing the big events.

The last dead man had been brought up from the mine. Clutched in his hands was a crumpled piece of paper. It was a message from the dying to the living. "Be sure to have the baby baptized—and go to church!" That was all there was time to say. But in the face of death nothing seemed more important.

Why is it that many people wait until death to say things they should have said long ago?

Football Broadcasts in 25th Year Among Most Popular on Air in U.S.

Today Hook-ups Use More Than 1,200 Radio Stations; Extensive Telephone Lines Also Required in Staging Numerous Gridiron Contests

As Princeton defeated Chicago 21-18 in the football thriller of October 28, 1922, in the Windy City, history was made by the radio broadcast of the game over Station WFLA, now WNBC, in New York, so it became an exciting event for fans a thousand or more miles away. It was the first football game broadcast from a remote city and the forerunner of the vast hook-up in sports of the "American Football League" which has since been owned and operated the program New York station, brought the program to Chicago over transcontinental telephone lines with special equipment, including connecting wires, transmitting and amplifiers on the football field, and amplifiers on the football field. Listeners heard the play-by-play description of the contest not only by individual crystal radio sets but a public address system in City Park in New York. They cheered and heard the cheers of the distant "Team of Destiny" stopped Chicago, inches short of goal line in the final seconds of the game.

The coach-to-coach telephone line, an innovation of recent years, today plays a vital role in many of the big college and professional football contests. In the recent Syracuse Temple game at Syracuse, for example, the visiting Owls were ahead 14 in the second quarter, when the Orange scored. The Owls' coach in the stadium observed the play and diagnosed a definite weakness in the defense and called the play.

Today, 25 years after the football season of 1922, 1347 commands cities of more than 200 radio stations in the country.
