ANGELICA, ALLEGANY COUNTY, NEW YORK

Gross-Felten

At an impressive service at Trinity Lutheran Church in Gardnerville on Saturday, April 24, Miss Edith Richard became the bride of the Rev. The Gross-Felten party entered the church as Mrs. Herbert Felten of Hambra, Calif., played "Take Thou Hands and Lead Me," and, just as the ceremony, Mrs. Carl Felten sang "O Perfect Love," with Herbert Felten at the organ. The bride was lovely in an ivory satin gown, made with fitting lace and sweetheart neckline, eyes and a full, floor length tulle finger tip length veil that hid her face from a look of illusion, and fell from a bouquet of white roses and

The wood cutters' dance wasn't very well attended last week end. Many fellows supposing to have been there, had an alibi, that they couldn't stand the smell of sawdust. I don't know, that may be so, but sure does sound darn queer. Just put your shovel on your wagon, don't spread that bull here.

Poppy Week

The local Legion Auxiliary poppy chairman, Mrs. Evelyn Parson has announced that the week, May 24th to 29th is Poppy Week.

There will be a house-to-house canvass ending with a street sale Saturday. We cannot, we must not forget the sacrifices that have been made for us. Let us show the world that we do remember by wearing a poppy. In this way we can also remember those who are still fighting a battle against wounds and illness in veterans' hospitals where these poppies are made.

It was in the Spring of 1919, amidst complete devastation, that poppies bloomed in abundance on the battlefields of France. A replica of this poppy has become the memorial flower of the American Legion and its auxiliary. Let each and every one of us wear a poppy.

Devote King

The devotion of Mrs. Devote King to the cause of King is well known to all. Her husband, who was an active member of the Grand Army of the Republic, was killed in the line of duty during the Spanish-American War. Mrs. King has since been afflicted with a serious illness, and she has spent much of her life in a nursing home of London, where many Orphans have been.

The little group of members of the church, including Mr. King, who were with her, were very glad to see her. They were all very glad to see her, and they were all very glad to see her. They were all very glad to see her, and they were all very glad to see her.

Angelica Pays Tribute

All Angelica paid tribute Thursday afternoon to Robert H. Warner (Bob to most of us), as his body was brought back to his home town from that far away Pacific isle where he fought so bravely and died that our freedom might be preserved. Let us ever be grateful for that supreme sacrifice and show it forth by so living that his death will not have been in vain.

All business places were closed and as many of our citizens as possible were crowded into St. Paul's Church, where the simple but beautiful Episcopal service was read by Rev. Roy L. Webber. Mrs. Merle Evans presided at the organ. Donald Scholla was crucifer and preceded the flag draped casket carried by members of the Legion as it was brought to rest at the foot of the chancel steps, between the lighted candles and banks of flowers, while Father Webber intoned the opening sentences of the burial service. Fellow servicemen stood at either side of the casket on guard throughout the service. In the procession, following his immediate family, were members of the Hill-Warner Post of the American Legion preceded by the American flag, Post flag and the color guard. Cross-Felten

At an impressive service at Trinity Lutheran Church in Gardnersville Felten began April 24, Miss Edith Richard Gross, the bride of the Rev. Herbert Felten of Alhambra, Calif.

The bridal party entered the church as Mrs. Herbert Felten of My Hands and played "Take Thou My Lead Me" and, just before the ceremony, Mrs. Carl Felten sang "O Perfect Love," with Mrs. Herbert Felten at the organ.

The bride was lovely in an ivory brocade satin gown, made with fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline, long sleeves and a full, floor length skirt. Her finger tip length veil was of silk illusion, and fell from a headband of bouvardia. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and bouvardia.

Her sister, Miss Ruth Felten, the only attendant, wore a gown of pale blue taffeta with full skirt, cap sleeves, and a sweetheart neckline. Her flowers were in the form of a colonial bouquet of pink and white, and pink sweetpeas were fashioned into a headdress.

The service was read by the bride's father, the Rev. Paul H. Felten, before the altar where lighted ivory candles, calla lilies and white stock made beautiful bridal decorations and a lovely setting.

Poppy Week

The local Legion Auxiliary poppy chairman, Mrs. Evelyn Parson has announced that the week, May 24th to 29th is Poppy Week.

There will be a house-to-house canvass ending with a street sale Saturday. We cannot, we must not forget the sacrifices that have been made for us. Let us show the world that we do remember by wearing a poppy. In this way we can also remember those who are still fighting a battle against wounds and illness in veterans' hospitals where these poppies are made.

It was in the Spring of 1919, amidst complete devastation, that poppies bloomed in abundance on the battlefields of France. A replica of this poppy has become the memorial flower of the American Legion and its auxiliary. Let each and every one of us wear a poppy.

During a coal miners' strike in Ohio in 1834, several loaded mine cars, were pushed back one mile into the mines, saturated with oil and set fire. This fire has never been extinguished. These miners didn't belong to any conservation club, they didn't know the meaning of the word conservation, and many people today don't know its meaning, but we all had better start learning because so many of our resources are diminishing very fast.

Balancing Meals
OWN OF THE QUESTIONS most frequently asked by housewives is, "How can I plan balanced meals?" Fundamentals of balancing meals are really simple. Take your dinner, for example. Use a serving of potatoes or another starchy food to go with the meat course; add to this one or two vegetables that go nicely with your chosen meat cut. If you have not had a salad for lunch, this may be added to the dinner menu. If you have a heavy dinner menu, if the fruit requirement of the day has been satisfied, serve cake, pastry or cookies. That is the dinner plan. However, it also is well to bear other points in mind, so that the meal will be pleasing.

First, select foods that have contrast in color, for these will make meals more interesting. We eat with our eyes first and a picture pretty plate certainly will whet the appetite.

Insects Launch Early Attack on Vegetables

When the first reasonably warm days arrive, insects will make their advent. These will be the green worm and the Colorado beetle and black flies on potatoes.

The cabbage green worm comes shortly in the wake of the familiar white and yellow "cutworms" that are hatching about. Dropping eggs as they touch the leaves of the cabbage. This crawling insect is killed by rotenone, not one of the atomizers, however, but the safe insecticide, rotenone. The best way to dusting with a strength of three-fourths of 1 per cent of rotenone, an insect prepared dust base. The first application should be made when the "cutworms" first come, then repeated once or twice ten days apart.

Sugar Beets Considered Good Crop for Dairymen

The sugar beet is an important cash crop, according to University of Wisconsin. Years of extensive production prove that the crop yields as well with dairy farming, and leaves the soil loose and friable. Beets seldom are damaged by either late spring or early fall frosts. There are few crops that leave the soil in as good condition. The tops are very valuable feed for cattle and sheep. They may be pastured, partially cured and put into trench silos, or used as silage.

Beetle Is Voracious Enemy of Potatoes

Dusting or Spraying Will Control Menace

Ranking as the most serious threat to the grower of potatoes and other vegetables is the Colorado potato beetle, which is prevalent throughout many areas of the country.

The beetle is yellowish in color, stout bodied, about two-fifths of an inch in length and with wing covers bearing 10 longitudinal stripes. The larva of "colug" is soft-bodied, reddish in color and reaches a maximum size of about three-fifths of an inch in length. Late in June when the potato plants begin to appear above ground, the beetles attack the foliage and lay their orange-colored eggs on the under side of the leaves.

The eggs hatch in a few days into voracious larvae which, after feeding for about 10 days, leave the plants and enter the soil to complete their development. They emerge as adult beetles by the latter part of July. A second brood is produced in August and adults of this generation winter in the soil. Both the larvae and adults are severe defoliators of the plants.

To rid the potatoes, tomatoes, egg plants, peppers, ground cherries and cabbage plants of the Colorado potato beetle, dust or spray with paris green, calcium arsenate or cryolite. Hand picking of the beetles and crushing of the egg masses is effective.

The church was instituted for a purpose. Through the preaching of the Word of God and assured of the forgiveness of sins and God's grace in Christ. We need the fellowship, communion in prayer, and encouragement to steadfast faith that is offered in the divine worship. It's ordinance is of God.

wage objective of $200 and he was receiving a starting wage of, say $125 a month from his employer, he received just the difference between the $125 and the $175 minimum allowed a trainee who had no dependents. Thus, although eligible for $65 maximum subsistence, he received but $50, even at the start.

Under the new law, which is retroactive, incidentally, to April 1, he would receive the full difference of his current wage and the $200 wage objective, up to the $65 for which he is eligible.

The new law, therefore, will usually allow a training program's wage objective to be the determining factor. This hasn't always been the case in the past with the sub-normal income ceilings.

NEGLIGENCE CASE BEING TRIED SUPREME COURT

The adjourned term of Supreme Court, with Justice Philip Halpern presiding, convened here Monday morning last.

General Calendar Case No. 4, filed with T. Stuart, Superintendent of Wellsville Public Schools, versus Chapman T. Jennings, Town of Allegany farmer, was taken up. The action was for recovery for damages resulting from an automobile collision at Belfast in the fall of 1946.

The jury returned a verdict of $273.45 in favor of the plaintiff that evening.

Case No. 19, an automobile negligence action brought by Mrs. Mildred A. Potter of Scio against her divorced husband, John Potter, and his father, Hardy Potter, both of Belmont, and William C. Wahl of Andover, opened for trial Tuesday.

Mrs. Potter suffered cuts about the face when an automobile in which she was a passenger crashed into the rear of a truck operated by Wahl the night of June 14, 1946, one mile west of Hornell.

SERIOUS OFFENSE

A 25-year-old Wellsville mother of two small children is free on $2,000 bail, after being arraigned Saturday afternoon on a charge of forgery for action by the Grand Jury, according to the sheriff.

Accused of attempting to cash a bogus check in the amount of $300 is Mrs. Rachel Reisman, 52 Pine street.

The discovery of the forgery came about when Mrs. Reisman presented the phony check at the First Trust Company about 9:45 o'clock Saturday morning. She was asked to wait while a routine verification of the instrument was made even though bank officials had immediately spotted the check as a forgery.

While the verification was being made, Mrs. Reisman apparently became frightened and left the bank. Sgt. T. F. Martin, uniformed member of the State Police, and Cpl. A. F. Bily, State Police Bureau of Criminal Investigation officer, chanced to be in the bank at the time, and the teller who picked out the bogus check and asked Corporal Bily to apprehend the woman.

NEGLIGENCE CASE IS BEING TRIED IN SUPREME COURT

The adjourned term of Supreme Court, with Justice Phillip Halpern of Buffalo presiding, convened here Monday morning last.

General Calendar Case No. 4, Alden T. Stuart, Superintendent of Wellsville Public Schools, versus Simpson T. Jennings, Town of Allen farmer, was taken up. The action was for recovery for damages resulting from an automobile collision at Belfast in the fall of 1946.

The jury returned a verdict of $273.45 in favor of the plaintiff that evening.

Case No. 19, an automobile negligence action brought by Mrs. Mildred A. Potter of Scio against her divorced husband, John Potter, and his father, Hardy Potter, both of Belmont, and William C. Wahl of Andover, opened for trial Tuesday.

Mrs. Potter suffered cuts about the face when an automobile in which she was a passenger crashed into the rear of a truck operated by Wahl the night of June 14, 1947, one mile west of Hornell.

Dr. D. E. Patti of Hornell, physician-surgeon who treated Mrs. Potter for injuries from 10:30 p. m. until 4:30 a. m., the night of the bank officials were "talking about the check," so she left to go home. The check was made payable to "Mrs. Florence Williams" and was signed with the name of Mrs. Tirzah Sloan, 46 Pine street. It was endorsed with the name "Mrs. Florence Williams."

After the statement was completed and Mrs. Reisman had identified herself in the document as "Mrs. Florence Williams" of 46 Pine street, she broke down and confessed that she was actually Mrs. Reisman of 52 Pine street.

In a very unusual procedure, Acting Police Justice Robert L. Fleischer advised the woman to obtain counsel to explain the technicalities of the law to her. Mrs. Reisman said she knew no attorneys and Norman B. Fitzer was named to represent the defendant.

Late Saturday afternoon County Judge Ward M. Hopkins set bail at $1,000 and Mrs. Sloan agreed to put up the amount.

$1,000 bill, Mrs. Reisman, 52 Pine Street, New York City, was accused of a second degree forgery when she cashed a check for the amount of $300 at Mrs. Rachel Reisman, 52 Pine Street.

The discovery of the forgery came about when Mrs. Reisman presented the phony check at the First Trust Company about 9:45 o'clock Saturday morning. She was asked to wait while a routine verification of the instrument was made even though bank officials had immediately spotted the check as a forgery.

House Group Approves Measure To Draft Men into Armed Forces; Hope for Palestine Agreement Ebbs

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

DRAFT BILL: On the Way

Yielding to the pressure of the times, congress was putting its hand squarely to the business of posing a selective service act which would give the nation's armed forces a total manpower of slightly more than two million in two years.

The house armed services committee had approved the measure, after board of defense secretary James Forrestal term it an "excellent" one, and passed it on to the floor of the house for debate.

Thus, for the first time since before the war, congress was facing squarely the momentous issue of a national draft. That this was happening during the hair-trigger days of an election year only served to underline the apparent urgency of the matter.

As approved by the armed services committee, the bill would:

1. Raise total authorized manpower of the armed forces to 2,005,862—army 837,000, air force 302,000, navy and marine corps 665,862.
2. Require registration of men over 16 through 30, with those over 18 liable for two

Clouds in the East

Amateur and professional military experts now are weighing the pros and cons of "war" in the Holy Land. Palestine is completely encircled by Arab states except for its Mediterranean coastline. Numerous Mediterranean estimated fighting morales indicate estimated fighting strength of the various Arab states. Jewish forces in Palestine are said to number about 75,000.

Anyone who can answer all five of the following questions may consider himself an expert. It doesn't make any difference what kind of expert, it's enough just to be one without going into having details about it.

1. Trans-Jordan is playing a key role in the Palestine situation. How long has it been an independent state?
2. State department is considering some form of military lend-lease for the five nations which signed the Brussels pact. When did lend-lease begin and when was it terminated?

4. Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio is seeking Republican presidential nomination. There have been seven Ohio-born Presidents. Name them.
5. Bureau of labor statistics reported that the consumer price index declined from 168.8 in January to 166.9 in March. What event took place in mid-February that was a factor in the decline?

Voluntary Help Can Save Europe's Dying Children

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator

WASHINGTON—What to do until the doctor can pretty important to know that. Pretty important to do it. There are 230 million children in this world first aid. The European recovery plan (E.C.A.) will help children who have the stamina to outlive the ugly inter-city, almost naked, they must roam the countryside and hovels, hungry and starving.

But the E.C.A. is a huge undertaking, and like all great bodies, it moves slowly.

Your help. To make that help effective the many humanitarian organizations which seek to save as many young lives as possible have been merged into one great Crusade for Children. Local groups are organizing in the cities. In the rural dis-

Thus, for the first time in the history of the United States, the Congress has passed a law which will have a direct effect upon the national draft. That this was happening during the late-trigger days of an election year only served to underline the apparent urgency of the matter.

As approved by the armed services committee, the bill would:

1. Raise total authorized manpower of the armed forces to 2,000,000, navy and marine corps 635,822.
2. Require registration of men from 18 through 30, with those from 19 through 25 liable for two years' service.
3. Exempt most veterans from further service, but those under 31 would have to register.
4. Allow assistance of industrial plants by the government if they refused to give top priorities to armament orders.

As it stood, the draft plan was conceded to have a good chance of passage at this session of congress. But complications were being threatened by the senate armed services committee which seemed inclined to recommend a universal military training measure with the draft bill.

The committee was waiting for Army Secretary Kenneth Royall to recommend details of a bill to call 161,000 18-year-olds for a year's training. They would be taken in addition to men procured through the draft.

As a combination, that didn't look so good to many Republicans. Rep. Walter G. Andrews (Rep., N. Y.), chairman of the house armed services committee, called the idea "utterly foolish, inconceivable or, at best, called

OLEO TAX: Fight Ahead

One of the most pressing problems of congress have had to strength of the Jewish forces in Palestine are to number about 75,000.

JERUSALEM: Confused

Time was running out in Palestine, and with it the hope for averting a Jewish-Arab civil war for possession of Jerusalem.

In the waning days before Great Britain removed her troops from the Holy Land upon expiration of the British mandate on May 15, Palestine had become a savagely confused, moribund state.

Bitterly, the United Nations trusteeship council virtually abandoned its efforts to devise an effective plan to safeguard Jerusalem from ravishment by the warring factions. Delegates could not hit upon a scheme that could be enforced.

Nor was any Arab-Jewish agreement in sight which might result in a truce necessary to give any U. N. plan a chance. Like a little boy watching his father trying to get his kite out of a tree, the council looked hopefully to Jerusalem where the Red Cross was doing its best to bring a halt to the fighting.

As far as the threatened invasion of Palestine by neighboring Arab states was concerned, no one seemed able to sum up the situation accurately.

Jews were insisting, in the face of denials, that Syrian and Lebanese armies had invaded northern Palestine, and the British were reported to have rushed troops back into the country to deal with what they called a "seriously deteriorated" situation.

Still an unknown factor in the rapidly climaxing events was wily old King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan. Commander of the finest army in the Middle East, the spike-helmeted Arab Le-

BIG PLANES: Russian

Russia put some big four-engined planes into the air over Moscow for the annual Soviet May Day parade and managed thereby to instill a modicum of uneasiness in the hearts of U. S. military experts.

At last reports they were awaiting more detailed reports of the planes from U. S. observers in order to gain, if possible, a new insight into Soviet airborne army equipment.

It is likely, the experts thought, that at least some of the planes were the Soviet TU-70, an aircraft bearing close resemblance to the American B-29. Assumption has been that the Russians copied many of the features of the five B-29s known to have been forced down in Soviet-controlled areas during the war.

Reported to be a hybrid transport-bomber, the TU-70 has a passenger capacity of 72. This probably could be increased substantially, however, if the planes were used strictly as troop carriers.

THE BREAK: Colombia

Not quite a month after the abortive revolution in April swept the capital city of Bogota into turmoil and caused damage throughout the thousands upon thousands of these children will die. Some will be saved by individual help — your help. To make that help effective the many humanitarian organizations which seek to save as many young lives as possible have been merged into one great Crusade for Children. Local groups are organizing in the cities. In the rural districts, the Farm Grange, Farm Bureau, Federation, Farmers' Union, Council for Farm Cooperatives, U.S. Department of agriculture and other groups are furthering the movement.

To anyone who has seen this tortured young generation, the effect is as staggering as the sight of a battlefield. To a young soldier, there is no shock like the sight of your first dead comrade. That still form, wearing the same uniform you wear, lying crushed against the earth. To me, the shock of the sight of European children moving with the shadow of a living death upon them was a terrible thing too.

I can remember getting off a train in what once had been one of the great railway stations of Europe — rubble ground into black mud, the ghastly smell of those buried deep under the foundations of ruined homes and shelters. Military police, hardened to the sights around them, and out of sight, bent on any mission, no matter how fair or foul, that would win some chocolate, a piece of K-ration, a cigarette that might be traded for some bit of food.

No matter what the sins of the fathers, they could not be great enough to justify the punishment inflicted on these children. There is only one way their bodies an

OLEO TAX: Fight Ahead

One of the most pressing problems members of congress have had to decide this year is whether their political bread is spread with butter or oleomargarine.

It is further complicated by the fact that they might, in choosing one or the other, be letting the gravy get away from them.

For good or ill, however, the house of representatives made its decision. It passed by a vote of 260 to 106 a bill to repeal all federal oleomargarine taxes which have been on the books for 62 years.

Those taxes are itemized as follows: 10 cents a pound on colored oleo, 1/4 cent a pound on uncolored, $600 a year on manufacturers, $400 on wholesalers of colored oleo, $200 on wholesalers of the uncolored product, $48 on retailers of colored oleo and $6 on retailers of uncolored.

Even if the federal taxes were repealed, it still would be against the law to sell colored oleo in 20 states.

Nevertheless, the house had rid itself of the matter and now it was up to the senate, where a battle royal was in prospect.

Reason the oleo tax issue has a stiff fight ahead in the senate is that senators are elected by voters of entire states, rather than by voters of districts within the states as are most representatives.

The result, in this case, is a split in the sentiment of constituents of many senators.

Jews were insisting, in the face of denials, that Syrian and Lebanese armies had invaded northern Palestine, and the British...
...to have rushed troops back into the country to deal with what they called a "seriously deteriorated" situation.

Still an unknown factor in the rapidly climaxing events was wily old King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan. Commander of the finest army in Arabia, the spike-helmeted Arab Legion, he had been talking big about invading Palestine from the East. He had been talking, too, about making himself king of Palestine. His ambition is a Middle East amalgam of states that would be in the nature of a greater Syria.

Experts were not discounting the role Abdullah and his power-politicking could play in the drama. In the end he could turn out to be the catalytic agent that might bring the unregenerate events in Palestine to a reasonable, if not a happy, conclusion.

COVENANTS:

Just Paper

In a decision which may produce more extensive reaction than any designed civil rights legislative program, the U. S. supreme court handed down a decision that, in effect, outlaws so-called restrictive covenants which bar racial or religious minorities from buying or occupying property in many areas throughout the country.

Declaring the decision, Chief Justice Fred Vinson held that enforcement of restrictive covenants by state or federal courts was a violation of the 14th amendment.

That amendment, adopted in 1868, reads in part: "No state shall make or enforce any law which shall

THE BREAK: Colombia

Not quite a month after the abortive revolution in April swept the capital city of Bogota into turmoil and caused damage throughout the republic, the government of Colombia formally severed diplomatic relations with Russia.

That the break was a direct result of the revolt, reportedly Communist-led and inspired, no one bothered to deny.

Officially, however, no mention was made of the uprising. Foreign Minister Eduardo Angel's note to the Russian charge d'affaires said simply that Colombia considered that there were no ties which warranted a continuation of diplomatic and consular relations between the two countries.

In concordance with the diplomatic action the Colombian government began to redeploy its troops and reorganize administrative machinery to strengthen its hold and prevent further outbreaks by Communists.

might be traded for some bit of food.

No matter what the sins of the fathers, they could not be great enough to justify the punishment inflicted on these children. There is only one way their bodies and their souls can be saved. That is through the groups which are supported by individual donations, degree of normalcy when society can be rebuilt, broken homes mended and the institutions which can care for the homeless put into operation as a part of a healthy community existence.

Government aid, like E.C.A., cannot establish direct contact with the individual. It is a matter of negotiations drawn up between nations. It means dollar credits which make it possible for the receiving nations to buy supplies.

Some of this money, of course goes into food. But it takes time the machinery to get into operation and even after it is in operation is inadequate to satisfy the need of the whole people. Much of the assistance goes into material things such as the reconstruction of factories, replacement and modernization of tools, machinery and cultural supplies.

that senators are elected by voters of entire states, rather than by voters of districts within the states as are most representatives.

The result, in this case, is a split in the sentiment of constituents of many senators.

For example, big northern states such as Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and Ohio, are composed of consumer cities and producer farms. The country districts include dairy farmers and soy bean growers. Consumers in cities want repeal of the taxes, and so do the soy bean men whose product is used in manufacture of oleo. The dairy farmers, naturally, want the tax to remain.

The dairy interests are strong. Their supporters in congress have been able to retain the oleo tax by the simple process of shelving any repeal bills in committee. It happened to the current bill in the house agricultural committee, but a petition circulated among house members forced the bill on to the floor where it was approved.

Declaring the decision, Chief Justice Fred Vinson held that enforcement of restrictive covenants by state or federal courts was a violation of the 14th amendment.

That amendment, adopted in 1868, reads in part: "No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States . . . nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

The supreme court's decision did not declare that restrictive covenants, as such, are violations of the constitution; but by ruling that it is unconstitutional for the courts to enforce the covenants it reduced them, legally, to mere scraps of paper.

For the most part, covenants are agreements entered upon by real estate promoters and buyers of land or homes. Purchasers agree not to sell their land or homes to persons barred by the covenant, terms of the agreement running from an average of 25 or 50 years to "perpetuity."

Inflation Hits Swindler, Victims

Inflation has hit the swindler and his victims, just like everybody else in the postwar world.

Cost of being rooked by various popular frauds and rackets has gone up in proportion to the rise in the swindlers' living costs, a report by the family economics bureau of Northwestern National Life Insurance company reveals.

Professional charity solicitors, who take 50 to 90 per cent of the public's donations before turning over the balance to the organization in whose name they operate, now boldly ask donations of $10 and $25 instead of the $2 to $5 at prewar scale.

Their "benefit dance" tickets now cost $2 each, often more, against 50 cents to a dollar in prewar days

Just to prove that the old greenback ain't what it used to be, Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas (Dem., Calif.) purchased $17.36 worth of groceries and toted the slim load onto the house floor to show her colleagues how prices have inflated since OPA controls expired in 1946. Mrs. Douglas has introduced a price control resolution in the house.

Voluntary Help Can Save Europe's Dying Children

By BAUKHAGE
News Analyst and Commentator

WASHINGTON—What to do until the doctor comes. Pretty important to know that. Pretty important to be willing and able to do it. There are 230 million children in this world today who need first aid. The European recovery plan (E.C.A.) will help a lot of these children who have the stamina to outlive the ugly interim period when, dirty, almost naked, they must roam the countryside or live in cellars and hovels, hungry and starving.

But the E.C.A. is a huge undertaking, and like all great bodies, it moves slowly. Anyhow, its chief purpose is to provide the means to restore normal conditions to the stricken areas of Europe. It is largely indirect aid, not gauged to individual cases.

Meanwhile thousands upon thousands of these children will die. Some will be saved by individual help — your help. To make that help effective the many humanitarian organizations which seek to save as many young lives as possible have been merged into one great Crusade for Children. Local groups are organized in the rural dis-

It provides direct citizen-to-citizen aid which is administered carefully with experienced personnel on the scene — personnel which cuts red tape and is free from many of the rules, regulations and restrictions which a government necessarily must employ. As a matter of fact, when the European recovery plan was first drawn up, it was contemplated that voluntary private aid would supplement it.

As an example of the type of thing Crusade for Children is designed to further: In Europe at present, there are some 50,000 distributing points, such as schools, child clinics and hospitals serviced by the International Children's Emergency Fund of the United Nations.

At schools and child centers, particularly through dried milk, ICEF makes a supplementary contribution to the noon meal, which costs

QUESTION: I have a dark soft wood floor that I don't know what to do with. It is single flooring. If I were to lay linoleum squares, would the floor have to be smooth before cementing them down?

ANSWER: Linoleum must be laid on a smooth surface. If your floor is rough and uneven, it should be sanded smooth. The alternative would be to cover the flooring with plywood, which gives a good surface for covering with linoleum.

QUESTION: Please tell me how and what to use to paint the bathroom wallpaper, and how to go about it. The paper sticks well to the wall.

ANSWER: If you do not mind taking a chance on having the paper loosen, apply two coats of enamel undercoater and a final coat of good quality enamel. Do not use flat paint or any kind of calcimine.

QUESTION: What about painting a house with the spraying method?

ANSWER: If well done by a professional the job should be entirely satisfactory provided, of course, he uses top quality paint, the surfaces are warm and dry, and the weather is warm and dry.

BIG PLANES: Russian

Russia put some big four-engined planes into the air over Moscow for the annual Soviet May Day parade and managed thereby to instill a modicum of uneasiness in the hearts of U. S. military experts.

At last reports they were awaiting more detailed reports of the planes from U. S. observers in order to gain, if possible, a new insight into Soviet airborne army equipment.

It is likely, the experts thought, that at least some of the planes were the Soviet TU-70, an aircraft bearing close resemblance to the American B-29. Assumption has been that the Russians copied many of the features of the five B-29s known to have been forced down in Soviet-controlled areas during the war.

Reported to be a hybrid transport-bomber, the TU-70 has a passenger capacity of 72. This probably could be increased to 100.

THE BREAK: Colombia

Not quite a month after the abortive revolution in April swept the capital city of Bogota into turmoil and caused damage throughout the republic, the government of Colombia formally severed diplomatic relations with Russia.

That the break was a direct result of the revolt, reportedly Communist-led and inspired, no one bothered to deny.

Officially, however, no mention was made of the uprising. Foreign Minister Eduardo Angel's note to the Russian charge d'affaires said simply that the government considered that many humanitarian organizations which seek to save as many young lives as possible have been merged into one great Crusade for Children. Local groups are organizing in the cities. In the rural districts, the Farm Grange, Farm Bureau federation, Farmers' Union, Council for Farm Cooperatives, U.S. department of agriculture and other groups are furthering the movement.

To anyone who has seen this tortured young generation, the effect is as staggering as the sight of a battlefield. To a young soldier, there is no shock like the sight of your first dead comrade. That still form, wearing the same uniform you wear, lying crushed against the earth. To me, the shock of the sight of European children moving with the shadow of a living death upon them was a terrible thing too.

I can remember getting off a train in what once had been one of the great railway stations of Europe — rubble ground into black mud, the ghastly smell of those buried deep under the foundations of ruined homes and shelters. Military police, hardened to the sights around them, were passing out of sight, bent on any mission, no matter how fair or foul, that would win some chocolate, a piece of K-ration, a cigarette that might be traded for some bit of food.

No matter what the sins of the fathers, they could not be great enough to justify the punishment inflicted on these children. There is only one way their bodies and their souls can be saved. That is through the groups which are supported by individual donations, until economic life is restored to a degree of normalcy when society can be rebuilt, broken homes mended and the institutions which can care for the homeless put into operation as a part of a healthy community existence.

FIRST PRIZE!

By HELEN LANGWORTHY

ANNE BURTON turned pale when she saw the telegraph boy at her door. But just one moment later she was rushing to the telephone. Henry was amazingly slow to understand. She said it rapidly three times. "WE WON, WE WON, HENRY! THE TELEGRAM HERE SAYS SO. THE TRAILER COACH WILL ARRIVE . . ."

Henry caught on then, "you mean we won first prize in that soap contest?" His voice was hoarse with excitement.

"Henry Burton! That's just what I've been telling you!"

Henry muttered something that sounded like a combination of "Holy Mackerel" and "Jumping Catfish."

In the intervening days the Burtons were told over and over that they were the luckiest people alive. Dozens of people asked the rhyme and the Burtons had submitted and walked away shaking their heads, mumbling "not half as good as mine."

Anne was almost delirious the day the trailer coach arrived. It was everything the pictures had shown. Chrome, clear varnish, soft lights and gadgets galore made it a fairyland palace.

"The only trouble," Henry complained, "is when I'm sitting inside glistening, I think of something outside I want to see. I never know which side of the door knob I'm after."

Eventually Anne made coffee and . . .

was deserting them. She made an especially nice lemon meringue pie for supper and Henry brought her a box of candy rather sheepishly.

Everything was lovely once again at the Burton home. But nothing more was said about taking the beautiful trailer to California. In fact, it was two days later that Henry broached the subject of Denver.

"It would be fun," Anne agreed. She was to the point of mentally packing suitcases when Henry made an unfortunate remark.

"Boy, the fishing," he said dreamily. "Guys have told me they really catch 'em in the mountain streams."

I got! Imagine every morning being forced to deliver last night's dream to Martin to roll over. Not a word would like the New England states now if they gave a bonus to every trailer arrival. NO!"

And that was that!

In the week that followed they considered most of the U. S. as vacation possibility. If Henry heard a suggestion, Anne had heard it raised there. If Anne suggested a state, Henry became positive his sinus would bother him.

They almost decided on New Orleans until Henry remembered the miles he tramped there in army

THE TEMPLE IN THE NATION'S LIFE

Lesson for May 23, 1948

OUR golden text is "O come, let us worship and bow down; let us kneel before the Lord our maker." Psalm 95:6.

The Jewish temple was a national sanctuary, whether we think in terms of the altar of Abel, Noah or Abraham, the tabernacle at Sinai, or the great temples at Mount Moriah, of Solomon, of Zerubbabel, or any of the other appointed places of meeting with God. The welfare of man in every age, requires the frequent worship of God.

From the days when the hymns of David, the Jews were true to God in their and in their reverence for holy. This lesson traces leaving no doubt in any part about the solemn truth of text.

"Florida! Anne born—Martha!"

Henry had some difficulty getting a reluctant amount of the trouble with Florida. It developed that Anne's great aunt had been bitten by a rattlesnake while there in 1835. The rattlesnake had been reported there last week, but had reported there were dozens of snakes in Florida.

Anne's "W. W. W." was correct.

Henry reasoned that this was something back that the snakes would have been killed off and that he personally would guard her. So the end they decided they wouldn't go to Florida.

Over their breakfast cereal next morning Anne made an elaborate request. Henry wondered if California guaranteed there were no snakes.

Anne smiled sweetly. "But the snakes, Henry! Just think of me kissing and let the heart burn."

Henry's mind was so busy with the thought of snakes that he failed to see that Anne was smiling. "Peter Lawford, of course," Anne told him. Her smile was radiant.

"Not Cooper, Frank or Van Johnson," Henry retorted.

"No, but they're all married!" Anne said.

"Anne! you!" Anne tried to say it was different. Anne tried to say she felt. Henry didn't. Before he knew the front door a man that would have been heard a knock he growled that he wasn't going to California and took over a lot of Collietta and took over a lot of water, even the unmarried ones, and that some people seemed to have never gotten over their swooning days.

Six handschiefs later Anne admitted to herself, with reservations, that she might have said the wrong thing. Working around their home thing she wondered what had happened that their beautiful happiness

The slight literary was Henry's own. "I thought he'd come to a big one."

"The 7th street to tell me you'd spend our vacation taking on the 'Big One'?" Anne's tone was icy. "Any time?" Anne's tone was icy. "Any time?" Anne's tone was icy.

Henry attempted to explain to Anne's mind was made up.

Shortly after that Anne's sister Martha, come to give the trailer her name. Martha was a beautiful girl and was a secretary to a successful doctor.

Anne was smiling but around it Henry came to. Martha thought it was a wonderful way to have a vacation.

"Where are you going?" she asked.

"Feeling almost guilty — but why guilty?" Anne admitted that they had decided.

Martha held her breath on the New England states. She learned at Henry as she told them she had all she wanted to see the historical spots she looked up at the railing as she related the dream she had the previous night. Using the door's pet terms, she explained her dream as a hidden desire, a desire to see the New England states.

She turned to Anne and asked brightly, "Merely you aren't going alone in the big trailer?" It will easily hold another passenger!"

Anne choked and looked at Henry. For answer he said, "We haven't decided. Want a ride home? I'm going your way, Martha."

When he returned his mind was as invincible as steel. "But," Anne protested, "Martha would enjoy it so much. After all—"

Then Henry's income, the other side, depended on them. A part from the Nortons never had been announced by and hearing from the other side, Anne trembled.

Why we go to church

M. WANNAMAKER, the merchant prince, was once asked who he went so regularly to church, he replied:

"I go to church for two main reasons: first, because God commands it; second, because it encourages life."

The Jews teach us, in the long record of their faithfulness or unfaithfulness, that the people who go regularly to church are the most dependable people in any community. And we can bring it right down to our day and generation, and see the same answer.

A business man told me recently that he had a check made of the several hundred young people in his employ, and he found that more than ninety per cent of the regular church-goers were advancing in their work with his company. He further discovered that almost without exception, the people who were giving trouble were the people who never entered a church.

 Wet and cold and shivering through the night,
 I find them where I am.

First Circus Museum Has Nostalgic Items

Heralded as the first museum in the United States devoted entirely to the circus, the Ringling Art mu- seum has been opened at Sarasota, Fla. Eventually the museum will contain exhibits tracing develop- ment of the circus from Roman times.

The museum is located in an old warehouse, with a central pole and girders suggesting the interior of a circus tent. The building is on the estate of the late John Ring- ling, circus operator, who willed his residence and art museum to the people of Florida at his death in 1936.

Included among exhibits are five old circus wagons, costumes, masks, drawings for the decor of specta- cles, handbills and photographs of famed circus characters.

WIT WE GO TO CHURCH

MEL WANNAMAKER, the suc- cessful merchant prince, was once asked why he went so regularly to church. He replied:

"I go to church for two main reasons. First, because God com- mands it; second, because it en- riches life."

The Jews teach us, in the long record of their faithfulness or un- faithfulness, that the people who go regularly to church are the most dependable people in any com- munity. And we can bring it right down to our day and generation, and get the same answer.

A business man told me recently that he had a check made of the three hundred young people in his several employ, and he found that more than ninety per cent of the regular church-goers were advancing in their work with his company. He further discovered that almost with- out exception, the people who were giving trouble were the people who never entered a church.

OUR NEED OF PUBLIC WORSHIP

OUR bodies require regular nourishment. And our souls are just as dependent upon regular nourishment. I would not say that it is absolutely necessary for one to attend public worship to grow spiritually, but the odds are en- tirely against those who claim that they can grow spiritually without attending public worship.

There is a place of worship within the reach of well-nigh every person in the United States. We are re- sponsible before God if we neglect to claim the advantages and bless- ings of public worship.

The place of the temple in the life of Israel is a symbol which teaches us today that we dare not forsake the assembling of ourselves on the Lord's Day in his house. The fellowship of worship is the sweet- est fellowship on earth. It is our surest road to peace here and here- after.

The Temple in the Nation's Life

Lesson for May 23, 1948

OUR golden text is "O come, let us worship and bow down; let us kneel before the Lord our maker." Psalms 95:6.

Dr. Newton

The Jewish temple was a national sanctuary, whether we think in terms of the altars of Abel, Noah or Abraham, the tabernacle at Sinai, or the great temples at Mount Moriah, of Solomon, of Zerubbabel, or any of the other appointed places of meeting with God. The welfare of mankind, in every age, requires the faithful and frequent worship of God.

From the days when they sang the hymns of David, the Jews were prosperous to the degree that they were true to God in their worship

BARELY ALIVE

"You have no complaint," a city man said to a farmer. "You have your own milk, butter, eggs, meat, and vegetables. With enough to eat and a place to sleep what more do you want?"

"Well," said the farmer, "you come around a few months from now and you'll see the fattest, sleekest, nakedest farmer you ever saw."

not of the agreement, he does so under a forfeiture of $25. It was agreed, and Lincoln and the judge each left to find a horse collected to watch the fun. When the judge reappeared there was a great laugh at the incredibly skinny, dejected-looking animal, blind in both eyes, that he led. But the uproar came when Lincoln strode upon the scene with a carpenter's saw-horse on his shoulder. Relieving himself of his burden, Lincoln with a disgusted air scrutinized the judge's animal.

"Well, Judge," he said, "this is the first time I ever got the worst of it in a horse trade."

Egg Hunt

A certain city dweller was inordinately proud of his small suburban farm, from which he commuted daily. One day he was proudly conducting a visitor over his rural acres.

"You have a nice little place here," the visitor remarked.

"Yes, I have," was the reply.

"A nice garden."

"Yep."

"And some fine chickens."

"Especially fine chickens."

"You like chickens very much?"

asked the visitor.

"Indeed, I do!" was the enthusiastic reply. "I tell you it is fine to take a basket every morning and go out after eggs."

At this point the little daughter of the amateur farmer brought the proceedings to a close by brightly chiming in: "Yes, sir, and sometimes we find one!"

A HOUSE OF WORSHIP
 IN Ezra 3:10-13, we see the pic ture of priests leading the peo ple to sing unto the Lord. "Be cause he is good, for his mercy en dureth forever toward Israel."

Wherever you live, whether in the city or in some quiet rural com munity, remember this, the sanctu ary measures the attitude of the people of such community toward God to a degree that no other gage of public opinion can offer. We have our various polls of public opinion, but none of them are so prophetic of a people's ultimate hope as their attitude toward God's house.

To Bob Warner

The day was dark and dreary
Such grey clouds filled the skies.
The flags were flown at half mast,
Sad tears dimmed many eyes.

The church was filled with mourners,
Where scarce a sound was heard,
Except the organ playing;
No one could say a word.

And as the organ softly played
The doors were opened wide.
Behind the cross of Jesus,
The procession came inside.

First the Priest behind the cross,
Prayed for him so true.
And next there came our Colors;
The dear Red, White and Blue.

These Colors stand for many things,
And millions heard their call.
Bob was one who answered,
For it, he gave his all.

The Priest to God gave praise
A bugle sounded from afar;
The flag from the coffin was raised.

They gave this flag they folded,
To his mother by the grave,
And then three shots were fired,
For our Bob so true and brave.

At last he's reached his resting place.
We were sad to see him go;
But Bob had died for everyone,
And is happy now we know.
